Congress united to defeat BJP, RSS in state: Rahul

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Davanagere

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi sounded the poll bugle for 2023 assembly elections at a mega party event in Davanagere on Wednesday. "Congress party is completely united to defeat the BJP and RSS in Karnataka," declared Rahul, while speaking at the 75th birthday celebrations of former chief minister Siddaramaiah at Shamanur Palace Grounds on the outskirts of Davanagere.

"The Congress will provide a clean and honest government that will work for the welfare of the people of Karnataka," he said. The senior Congress leader trained his guns on the BJP accusing it of dividing society.

Amid reports of a rift between Congress heavyweights Siddaramaiah and KPCC chief D K Shivakumar, Rahul said it was a happy moment for him to see both the leaders hugging each other at the event, which, he said, shows how united the Congress is in Karnataka. P4

Data protection bill axed

Big tech won, government lost, says Congress MP Manish Tewari

Ashwini Vaishnaw

THE Union government on Wednesday withdrew the Personal Data Protection (PDP) Bill 2019 from the Lok Sabha, saying it plans to bring in a comprehensive legislation soon. Union Information and Technology Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said the Joint Committee of Parliament has looked at the bill in detail and made 81 amendments and 12 recommendations towards a comprehensive legal framework on digital ecosystem.

"Considering the JPC report, a comprehensive legal framework is being worked out. We will present a new bill that fits into this framework," said Vaishnaw.

The original bill, which was introduced in the Lok Sabha in 2019, had evoked strong protests from Opposition parties and civil society members who alleged the proposed legislation gave sweeping powers to the government to access personal data of citizens. The bill was later referred to the JPC led by BJP MP P P Chaudhary. Among a slew of recommendations, the panel suggested a single law to deal with both personal and non-personal data.

Cong MP Gaurav Gogoi, who is a member of the JPC, told this paper that he has flagged his main concerns as providing the government with powers to give blanket exemption to its probe agencies from the provisions of Act. P9

Flutter as Cong's Young Indian office is sealed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate on Wednesday temporarily sealed the office of Young Indian Ltd within the premises of National Herald, as part of its action in a money laundering case for which both Congress leaders Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi were previously questioned.

The case pertains to alleged financial irregularities during the acquisition of Associated Journals Ltd (AJL) by the Gandhi-owned Young Indian Ltd in 2010.

The ED action galvanised a section of the Congress leadership to hit back against the government, since a large police deployment was parallelly noticed at the party's headquarters at 24, Akbar Road and the Gandhis' residences at Janpath Road and Tughlaq Lane. Barricades put up around the Congress office and Sonia and Rahul's residences were later removed.

Reacting to the security cover, Congress general secretary Jairam Ramesh tweeted, "Congress is under siege. Delhi Police has surrounded our HQ and homes of INC President and ex-President. This is the worst form of vendetta politics. ...We will continue to raise our voice against injustices and failures of Modi Sarkar!" P9

BBMP to pump out water from inundated homes

Chief promises work on a permanent solution by next monsoon

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ BENGALURU

BBMP workers pump out water from a street in Mariyamma Palya in Bengaluru on Wednesday | SHRIRAM BN

FOLLOWING heavy rain over the past three days, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said that BBMP will get water pumped out from affected homes in the city.

He told reporters that East Zone was the worst-hit area. "We have sent workers to pump out water -- 270 homes in Sai Layout, 50 in HBR Layout, 16 in Pai Layout and 12 in Nagappa Reddy Layout are flooded. BBMP will pay compensation and is working on a permanent solution. It will take time, but there will be some relief by next monsoon," Girinath said.

With Sai Layout flooding for the third time in a year, Girinath said, "BBMP has called tenders for vent widening work at Geddalahalli railway gate. Once work is completed, the situation will improve by next monsoon." Apart from the existing vent, BBMP will seek permission for one more small vent on the same stretch. He mentioned that the Palike identified encroachments in Pai Layout and has already cleared a few.

On illegal flexes and banners, he said the Palike cleared 2,519 illegal flexes and banners from eight zones, and registered 28 FIRs. BBMP marshals, assistant engineers and revenue inspectors have been given powers to file cases in this regard.

BBMP has no powers to give permission

On Hindu outfits applying for permission to hold Independence Day events and hoist the Tricolour at Chamarajpet Idgah Maidan, Girinath said there is a court injunction against the municipality, and it has no powers to give permission. He said that August 3 was the last date for the Wakf Board to reply to the ownership notice issued by the Joint Commissioner (West)."There is 42 days' time for disposal of the case, and the Wakf Board has applied for khatha. The Joint Commissioner is a quasi-judicial body and will only decide the next course of action," he said.

Push for Tiranga sales

On the Har Ghar Tiranga initiative, BBMP has received 6 lakh tricolour flags and will push for sales at BDA shopping complexes, malls, Secretariat and other places where the public gathers in large numbers.

On flying the Tricolour atop madrasas, he said the decision is left to the minority department.

DUCKS FOUND STRANDED AT SANKEY

Bengaluru: Morning walkers at Sankey Tank were surprised to find ducks stranded near the waste weir of the tank bund. They contacted Fire and Emergency officials, who entered the overflowing tank and pulled the ducks to safety. The birds were in danger of being washed down the drain channels. Sankey Tank Morning Walkers' Association secretary Uday Shankar told TNIE that BBMP has still not paid heed to their suggestions, and Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan's directions to put up a green mesh towards the inlet and outlet points, for the safety of aqualife. Locals said there were over 100 ducks earlier, but the number has now reduced to 46.

Flower show to cost ₹2.5 crore

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AFTER four flower shows being cancelled in a row, the 212th annual LalBagh flower show will be held between August 5 and 15.

The show, which is themed on Kannada matinee idol Dr Rajkumar and his son Puneeth Rajkumar is being held at the cost of Rs 2.5 crore.

Horticulture Minister Muniratna Naidu told reporters on Wednesday, "The show will be held from August 5 to August 15 and the ticket rates are priced between Rs 70 on weekdays and Rs 75 on weekends. The show will be free for schoolchildren provided they come in uniform. There will be arrangements made for parking at the current rates"

Exhibitors will be part of a competition and winners will be awarded with a trophy. "We have got flowers from Ooty, New Zealand, America, Holland, Argentina, Kenya and many other countries. The glass house in the botanical garden will have over 65 types of flower plants that will bloom through out the year," the minister said.

Roses and chrysanthemum flowers will be used to create replicas of Dr Rajkumar's Gajanuru house and Puneeth Rajkumar's Shakti Dhama, a rehabilitation center, the minister added. Joint Director of LalBagh M Jagadeesha stressed on the security arrangements made, which includes 125 CCTV cameras, 350 quick response personnel in addition to 50 home guards.

A torch light will be lit at the samadhi of Dr Raj and Puneeth Rajkumar and will be placed in Lalbagh till the event is over.

Govt to form panel to begin Gita classes

Bengaluru: School Education and Literacy Minister BC Nagesh said the department has proposed to teach Bhagavad Gita from this academic year itself. The minister told reporters on Wednesday that texts are being prepared, however, according to a source in the department, no formal curriculum has been set. The minister said the texts and curriculum will be prepared by the month-end. Lessons are to be taken as part of moral science classes and will be held once a week in schools. The minister had used the example of Gujarat to introduce the text in schools, and said a committee would be formed soon. The decision to introduce the text in schools has faced ardent opposition from activists.

Thai Fiesta inaugurated in Bengaluru

Bengaluru: Tanapat Sangaroon, Thai Vice Consul for Commercial Affairs, inaugurated the Thai Fiesta in Bengaluru. The Fiesta, jointly organised by Thai Trade Centre, Mumbai, and Lulu Hypermarket, is taking place at Global Malls, Bengaluru, and will go on till August 12. It features products, cultural performances and food from Thailand. Recently, the Thai Fiesta logo was unveiled by Kannada filmstars Kiccha Sudeep and Upendra.

Ward reservation list out, 7 days for objections

Bengaluru: After the draft notification on ward delimitation, the government announced the notification for reservation for 243 wards. According to the list, out of 234 wards, General Category and General Category (Women) can contest in 129 wards. The notification also says that objections can be filed within seven days from the date of notification, and have to be given in writing to the Urban Development Department at Vikasa Soudha. As per the notification, women have been given preference under General, Backward Class A, B, SC and ST reservation. Women can contest in over 110 wards. Interestingly, many former corporators, aspirants, and former ruling and opposition leaders like Manjunath Reddy from Madiwala (ward 190) and Rizwan Nawab from Gurappanapalya (ward 194) cannot contest from the same ward, as these wards are reserved for General Category (Women).

CET papers verification put off to Aug 8

ENS @ Bengaluru

AFTER postponing the Karnataka Common Entrance Test (KCET) document verification for counselling, the Karnataka Examination Authority (KEA) has said that verification will take place on August 8.

The date for document verification had been deferred amidst mass protests from across the state against the authority's move to not consider 2021 PU examination marks in totalling KCET scores. This has led to many students alleging that their ranks dropped significantly as a result. With document verification to originally begin on August 5, parents and students have protested outside KEA offices, as well as the residence of Higher Education Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan.

However, both KEA and the minister have maintained that the decision will remain in place.

4-MONTH-OLD ABANDONED ELEPHANT CALF FINDS SHELTER IN BANNERGHATTA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN a rare incident, an abandoned male elephant calf, found in Cauvery Wildlife Sanctuary, has been given shelter at the Bannerghatta Biological Park rescue centre.

The calf, aged around 3-4 months, was found wandering near the Muttatti-Sangam road on August 1. After failing to unit the calf with his mother, the forest department shifted the calf to Bannerghatta.

Zoo veterinarian Umashankar said that calves are usually abandoned if the calf is ill, or if the mother is mating or dead. The survival of abandoned calves is difficult as they require milk and it's mother's shelter. Abandoned calves, in the nursing age, are vulnerable to infections and are not accepted by other elephant herds.

Umashankar said, "BBMP houses 25 elephants with four calves. The herds are not accepting the new entrant. The calf has been kept in a separate enclosure and needs a lot of emotional, psychological and medical support. Mahouts are trying to befriend the calf and animal keepers are attempting to hand rear him. His samples to check for viral infections has been sent for analysis." The BBP officials added that the park had rescued an abandoned elephant calf, that was later adopted by then forest minister Anand Singh.

BABOONS AT BBP

BBP will soon welcome Hamadryas Baboons from Singapore Zoo. The first batch- two males and a female- will arrive from Mysuru Zoo and the second will come directly from Singapore zoo. A BBP official said that approval by the Central Zoo Authority is awaited for the same. The first batch of baboons are in quarantine in Mysuru zoo.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There are certain ties and involvements which can never be broken. However, you must make minor adjustments if you are to continue to live an existence that is fulfilling and satisfying from a personal point of view. Hopefully you haven't backed yourself into too much of a corner.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Now that Venus, planet of love, is offering you gentle encouragement, you must take one or two important steps. The first is to acknowledge that other people have the advantage. The second is to stand back and allow them to enjoy their period of dominance.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Try to think of a possession or personal contact you are losing as something that you might be better off without. You know better than anyone that your future happiness depends more than anything on a change of attitude. Strangely, it would probably also do partners good if you altered your opinions.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
In spite of the many obstacles that circumstances are placing in your path, the long-term plan is still working in your favour. Never imagine that you are powerless in the face of fate. You're not, and if there's anything astrology can teach you, then it's how to create your own future.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Don't expect business affairs to go exactly according to plan. On the other hand, there is really no need to worry about short-term hiccups turning into long-term catastrophes - just as long as you keep your finger on the pulse. That way you'll be prepared for the unexpected.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Sure you have your shy side, but anyone who still believes that you are always timid is about to be put firmly in their place. However, over the next three days you can expect to meet considerably more opposition than for many weeks, so take a positive approach and listen to good advice.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Concern about a personal matter is due to increase over the next forty-eight hours, but this is all to the good if it alerts you to possible weaknesses. Put your time to good account by cleaning up your diet, improving your exercise and devoting more attention to your responsibilities.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There's a minor planetary cycle at work that affects your sign and which comes to a head over the coming two or three days. The opportunities which now open up should be profoundly creative in the broadest sense and could, eventually, lead to a life which is so much more satisfying.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
People at home will be gearing up for a fight. This is one of those disputes in which nothing of substance seems to be involved beyond a feeling that someone's pride has been hurt. But, then, it's what exactly people feel that counts, and that's why they need to be placated.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
It may be wise to wait another few days before pressurising anybody else into a firm commitment. The fact is that close partners may feel much more strongly about your ideas than you realised. You should probably spend a little extra effort on gentle persuasion.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
You're in a generally prosperous phase, but as soon as you stop concentrating, costs could shoot up. All that happens financially from now until the weekend may not be entirely to your liking. This is one of those times when you have to accept that the planets could be pushing you in a new direction.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You must be very careful what tactics you apply over the coming days. You may feel that it is wisest to sit back and let events take their own course, intervening only in the most critical situations. If someone close is absolutely determined to go their own way, then at least you can make sure that they succeed!

119 kids missing since Oct 2021 yet to be traced

Anti-Human Trafficking Unit to probe 66 cases

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

INFORMING the Karnataka High Court that 119 missing children are yet to be traced, the State government said that 353 children who have been traced so far are living with their parents, 10 children are in Child Care Institutions and two children died due to HIV and TB diseases.

In all, 484 children are missing from various institutions run by the Department of Women and Child Development, from 2015-16 to October 2021.

The compliance report placed before the division bench of Acting Chief Justice Alok Aradhe and Justice S Vishwajith Shetty, in response to directions issued in the PIL, filed by social activist KC Rajanna, seeking directions to trace missing children.

The state government explained that out of 119 untraced children, 66 cases are transferred to the Anti-Human Trafficking Unit, and 53 cases are pending in the police stations concerned.

On steps taken to trace the missing children, the government stated that complaints have been filed with police stations, as per SOPs modified by the Government of India and National Commission for Protection of Child Rights, if the children are not traced within four months.

Explaining various programmes implemented to trace children, the government told the court that Telangana has developed an app, 'Darpan', and that Delhi developed an app for facial recognition to trace missing children, by converting the photo of the child at the time of going missing into an imaginary photo of the child at present. If this technology is implemented in Karnataka, it will be easy to trace missing children, the government informed the court.

HC to court: Let trial go on against sub-registrars

ENS @ Bengaluru

ALLOWING the petition filed by the Lokayukta, the Karnataka High Court has set aside an order passed by the special court in December 2017 to discharge two sub-registrars, an First Division Assistant and a private person from all offences registered against them under the Prevention of Corruption Act and IPC in 2005.

Noting that the special court jumped to a hasty conclusion that the order passed by the government in 2006 was an order of rejection of sanction to prosecute the accused, Justice HB Prabhakara Sastry set aside the order passed by the special court.

"In view of the fact that the alleged incident is said to have taken place in 2005, as such, a very old matter, the High Court requested the special court to complete the trial and dispose of the matter, in accordance with law, at the earliest, but not later than six months," Justice Sastry said.

The accused Sub-Registrars were Venkatesh Bhat and KR Renuka Prasad attached to Jayanagar Sub-Registrar Office, First Division Assistant LV Shadakshari working in their office, and Stamp Paper Vendor S Nataraj.

The accused were trapped on June 7, 2005, following the complaint filed by Quality City Labs Private Limited for demanding bribe for registration of a sale deed.

HC sets aside summons to former CEC

ENS @ Bengaluru

OBSERVING that constitutional functionaries cannot be summoned as witnesses just for askance, the Karnataka High Court set aside the subpoena issued to former Chief Election Commissioner Sunil Arora by a single judge, in relation to a petition filed by a defeated candidate challenging the election of MLA Mahesh from Athani constituency.

Allowing the appeal filed by the Election Commission of India, a division bench of Justice Krishna S Dixit and Justice P Krishna Bhat set aside the order passed by a single judge on June 17, 2022, to issue subpoena to Sunil Arora.

3 tenants nab thief, but booked for beating him

PRAVEEN KUMAR @Bengaluru

THREE men from Uttar Pradesh have landed in trouble for locking up and beating a thief in Kodigehalli area. The thief, along with his two associates, had entered the house early on Tuesday morning to commit a theft. After hearing some noise, the three men caught hold of one thief, while two others escaped.

Instead of calling the police, the three locked the thief and beat him up for over three hours. Later, they called the house owner, who informed the police. The police first registered a case against the thief, but later booked another case against the three tenants for beating the thief. The police shifted the thief, Munivenkatesha alias Nathi, to hospital as his condition was bad.

Munivenkatesha and his two accomplices had gone to the house at Maruthi Layout in Kodigehalli when he was caught by Rishikesh, Abinash and Raju Yadav. The thieves had entered the house by opening the backdoor through a window next to it. The accused had taken Rs 30,000 in cash and a mobile phone. After locking and beating up Munivenkatesha, the tenants informed the house owner Kempaiah around 9 am.

"We appreciate their courage in nabbing the thief red handed, but they should not have taken the law into their hands," said an officer.

IT was an embrace that had a powerful message of unity behind it. When KPCC president DK Shivakumar and Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah put their arms around each other on the big stage of Siddaramotsava here on Wednesday, it was to convey to the public that they are together in their mission to bring Congress back to power in the 2023 Assembly elections.

Though both have on record maintained that the chief minister will be decided by the party's newly elected MLAs and high command on gaining majority in the polls, the vociferous crowd at the venue of Siddaramaiah's 75th birthday bash, 'Amruth Mahotsava', shouted slogans that Siddaramaiah should be the chief minister.

Siddaramaiah asserted that the talk of a rift between him and Shivakumar is an "illusion and creation" of other parties and there is no differences between them and they will fight the opposition unitedly.

Shivakumar too said that they are united, and added that Siddaramaiah is a leader of all sections and should not be portrayed only as a backward classes leader. "Congress has a bright chance of coming to power in 2023 and for that we have to go to the polls collectively," he added.

> Congress will come to power in 2024 and Rahul Gandhi is the right person to become the Prime Minister. He is the ray of hope that the country is looking at
> Siddaramaiah, former chief minister

Siddaramaiah said the BJP government in the state is indulging in corruption and collecting 40 per cent commission for projects. "If you have any shame and have any respect for the Constitution, resign and go," he told Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai.

He said in the last fortnight, the costal Karnataka witnessed three brutal murders (B Masood, Praveen Nettaru and Mohammed Fazil), but Bommai visited the house of only Nettaru and did not console the families of the other two murdered youth. "You have given compensation only to the Nettaru family, but why not to the relatives of the other two," he asked.

On the economic situation in the state, he said when he stepped down as chief minister, the state had a debt of Rs 2.42 lakh crore, but it has increased now to Rs 5.40 lakh crore. The government has to pay an interest of Rs 43,000 crore, he added.

On the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) questioning party president Sonia Gandhi and senior leader Rahul Gandhi, he said the Central government is grilling the leaders without filing an FIR which is illegal.

In bid to win Lingayat support, Gandhi visits Murugha Mutt

MARX TEJASWI @ Chitradurga

SENIOR Congress leader Rahul Gandhi paid a visit to Sri Murugha Mutt here on Wednesday, in an apparent bid to regain the confidence of the Lingayat community which has been backing BJP for several years. Gandhi was also given a 'Linga Deekshe' by pontiff Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru on the occasion.

Gandhi, who was on his way to take part in the 75th birthday celebration of former chief minister and leader of opposition Siddaramaiah in Davanagere, made a stopover and spent nearly 45 minutes at the mutt.

The visit is significant in the run-up to the 2023 Assembly elections as Congress is trying to win the support of the Lingayat community that distanced itself from Congress after then Prime Minister and Rahul's father Rajiv Gandhi unceremoniously removed Lingayat leader Veerendra Patil as chief minister in 1990.

With BJP too seeming to have antagonised the community by removing the Lingayat strongman BS Yediyurappa and replacing him with another Lingayat Basavaraj Bommai, the opposition party is trying to win the numerically and politically strong Lingayats. After giving the Deekshe, Shivamurthy Murugha Sharanaru told Rahul that he is now a Basava devotee. Rahul was also gifted a coffee table book 'The Social Reformer' on Sharanaru, brought out by The New Indian Express.

Hubballi Hosamutt seer Chandrashekhar Swami told Rahul that since his grandmother and father were prime ministers, he too would be a Prime Minister one day as he has been given the Linga Deekshe. Sharanaru interrupted and told the seer that the mutt is not the platform to say such things. "The mutt treats everyone equally, cutting across party lines. It is the people who will decide," he said.

KPCC president DK Shivakumar, who was accompanying Rahul, said Congress has not hurt any mutt and that is the ideology of the party.

Rahul extends support to khadi flag-makers

ARUNKUMAR HURALIMATH @ Hubballi

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday visited the khadi flag-making unit and extended support to the protesting workers of the Karnataka Khadi Gramodyoga Samyukta Sangha (KKGSS) at Bengeri in Hubballi on Wednesday.

Following the Centre's action of amending the flag code and allowing polyester flags, workers and members of KKGSS, which is India's only Bureau of Indian Standards-certified flag-making unit, have been staging protests against the move in the city.

During his visit, Rahul went through the process of flag-making and also interacted with the workers.

Speaking to the media, he said that khadi and charkha represent Mahatma Gandhi and India. "But the BJP wants nothing to be made by small and medium businesses in the country, while expecting everything to be produced by those people favoured by it. The entire idea is to take money from the pocket of these people (khadi flag weavers) and put it into the pockets their 'favourite people'. That is why they changed the flag rules," he alleged. Several Congress leaders, including KPCC president DK Shivakumar and working president Satish Jarkiholi, visited the unit last month.

Allegedly, the said polyester flags are being manufactured at a couple of factories in Surat, Gurajat, where a Union minister's son is a partner.

Taking a dig at the BJP government's policies in the country, including demonetisation and farm bills, Rahul charged that these were in favour of big industrialists and the government was engaged in looting the poor.

B'DAY BASH IMPAIRS TRAFFIC MOVEMENT

DAVANAGERE: Traffic came to a standstill on a 20-km stretch of the Davanagere-Harihara NH-48 for several hours, as lakhs of supporters of former chief minister and Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah made their way from across the state, to his 75th birthday bash at Shyamanuru Palace Grounds here on Wednesday. Congress MP Rahul Gandhi was also stuck in traffic, until the police managed to clear a route for his convoy. Besides the programme venue being jam-packed, an equal number of supporters, including senior party leaders, and the general public too struggled as the traffic came to a standstill. Buses plying on the stretch had to wait for several hours. A few emergency service vehicles were also hit, before being allowed to move out from another lane. Meanwhile, a few party workers raised slogans against the BJP government, accusing it of 'deliberately' causing the traffic jam. ENS

'People in US say Cong ensured peace'

RAHUL said Shivakumar has done tremendous work in organising the party in the state.

Referring to the three murders in coastal Karnataka, he said such violence had not taken place in the past. "When we ask people in the US what they think of Karnataka today, they say the state never witnessed the type of violence it is facing today. They will say when Congress was in power, communal harmony prevailed in the state".

Taking potshots at the BJP-led Union government, he said demonetisation is the biggest achievement of NDA. It was the process of transferring money from the poor to the corporate bigwigs who are friends of the prime minister. After demonetisation, the government introduced GST which was anti-farmer, and because of which small and medium businesses collapsed leading to unemployment. It was designed in such a way that a handful of PM's corporate friends survived, he alleged.

"The anti-farmer farm laws were then brought in but we fought against them forcing the government to repeal them".

He also claimed that MGNREGA, farm loan wavier, food guarantee Act, RTI and other schemes were introduced by the UPA government for equitable distribution of resources among the public. However, the BJP on other hand was trying to snatch away the resources meant for public and hand them over to several wealthy people, he alleged.

Congress orders leaders to put up unity show

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA
@ Hubballi

THE outcome of the first Political Affairs Committee (PAC) of the Karnataka Pradesh Congress, held in Hubballi on Tuesday, is to chant the unity mantra. Former AICC president and top party leader Rahul Gandhi has asked leaders to make the party unit cohesive for success in the 2023 Assembly elections.

In the recent past, the Congress has seen a tussle over who should become chief minister, should the party gain a majority. It became a flashpoint between the camps of CLP leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president D K Shivakumar. While the latter appealed to his community to bless him get the coveted post, the former's supporters held his 75th birthday celebrations.

The central leaders fear that frictions over the CM's post could implode the party and harm its electoral prospects. Against this backdrop, the leadership decided to hold the newly constituted PAC meeting on the eve of Siddaramotsava, in the presence of Rahul Gandhi, to send a message to the warring groups.

Briefing about deliberations of the meeting, AICC General Secretary (Organisation) K C Venugopal stressed on party unity to face the huge election machinery of the BJP. Rahul asked the leaders not to air different views inside or outside the party forum, or discuss internal issues in public; the question is whether they will adhere to these instructions.

Sources privy to discussions said Venugopal chastised the leaders for making out-of-the-turn comments, and asked them to fall in line. A senior leader said that whenever such a meeting is held, leaders put up a show of unity, but later return to their previous stand. Another issue is announcing the candidate's name in advance. Venugopal said the issue was discussed, but did not divulge any details.

PSI RECRUITMENT SCAM

CID grills CA, property dealer

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE Criminal Investigation Department is questioning two key persons in the police sub-inspector (PSI) recruitment scam regarding the graft money that was reportedly collected from the candidates to help them clear the examination. The two are said to be close to the senior IPS officer and additional director general of police Amrit Paul, who is presently lodged in judicial custody at the Bangalore Central Prison at Parappana Agrahara.

According to informed sources, the investigating team is questioning property dealer Anand and chartered accountant Shambhulingaiah regarding the graft money. "Relatives of Anand and Paul have reportedly developed some property in joint partnership in Chikkaballapur and elsewhere, which are under the CID scanner," said sources.

"The arrested deputy superintendent of police Shanthakumar in his statement had reportedly confessed to have demanded Rs 5 crore from candidates for tampering with their OMR sheets and had collected around Rs 1.35 crore as advance, which was allegedly handed over to Paul. The latter had handed over the keys of the strongroom to Shanthakumar for the purpose," said sources.

Since the PSI recruitment scam is around payment by each candidate to clear the exams, it is critical for the CID to establish the trail of money in each candidate's case and prove it on record to back up the oral statements of the witnesses/accused to obtain conviction. The agency has recovered around Rs 2.5 crore so far from the house of head constable, Central Armed Reserve (CAR), Sridhar, and first division assistant Harsha.

Sources said the CID will write to the Directorate of Enforcement to investigate the alleged money trail under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act. The agency has filed three chargesheets; two in Kalaburagi and one in Bengaluru against the accused, including the DySP, in the PSI recruitment scam. The CID will file a chargesheet against Paul, for which they have another two months, added the sources. The IPS officer was arrested on July 4 in the PSI recruitment scam.

CONG HAS LOST PEOPLE'S TRUST, SAYS ASHWATH

BELAGAVI: Hitting out at the Congress, Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan claimed that the Grand Old Party had lost the people's trust in the state, and would soon turn into a museum exhibit. Speaking to the media on Wednesday, Ashwath Narayan called the Congress a divided house, and said it would not be possible for the party to ensure unity among its leaders. He charged that each leader of Congress was greedy for power. "The politics of the Congress is irrelevant today. Its leaders should retire from politics and sit back blessing others," the minister added. ENS

Artificial scarcity of fertilisers affecting farmers in Koppal district?

ENS @ Koppal

OFFICIALS of the Agriculture Department in Koppal seem to have unearthed an alleged artificial scarcity scam involving fertilisers meant for the kharif season.

Vigilance squads of the department have raided shops and seized 14.675 tonnes of illegally stored fertilisers by traders in the open market, and cases have been booked against 17 fertiliser traders and licences of six shops have been suspended. Serpentine queues of farmers continue to be seen in front of Raitha Samparka Kendras (RSKs) across the district, including the one at Masabahanchinal, the village of minister Halappa Achar. This has led to suspicion of artificial scarcity.

Meanwhile, fertiliser traders in the open market are fleecing farmers, citing 'unavailability' of fertilisers. They claim to get fertilisers for farmers from other shops at a much higher price than what the government has prescribed. As the district received 98.7 mm rainfall as against the average of 66.2 mm in July, in addition to the 25 mm rainfall as against average of 5 mm for August 1 and 2, farmers are in dire need of fertilisers. They are forced to cough up hefty sums for the same in the open market, sources noted.

Intriguingly, agriculture department officials claim that there is adequate stock of fertilisers, but the same is not being witnessed by the farming community, said an official on condition of anonymity.

Joint Director of Agriculture Sadashiva attributed the shortage to early kharif sowing, especially paddy in command area of Tungabhadra Project following heavy rainfall in catchment area of the Tungabhadra reservoir in June-July.

Though the agriculture department estimated a demand of 70,494 metric tonnes of fertilisers in the district between April and July, the supply has stood at 56,722 metric tonnes and hence the shortage. He, however, told TNIE on Wednesday that fertilisers meant for August and September are also being advanced for supply to overcome the problem.

Rain takes toll on roads, highways; opposition demands answers

Oppn says roads laid recently washed away; minister says govt on the job

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru:

WHAT ails the roads and highways of Karnataka? Broken, breached highways are a common sight during the monsoon, and eight weeks of rain and floods have become the government's big worry.

While many roads in Bengaluru city and rural areas are in a state of disrepair, there are complaints from cities like Belagavi, Davanagere, Hubballi-Dharwad, Shivamogga, Tumakuru and Mangaluru, which are covered under the Smart City programme across the state.

The opposition is alleging that roads laid recently are being washed away, and has sought answers from the government. Congress leader and former MLA Madhu Bangarappa, who is part of the three-member Congress Manifesto Committee, said, "I have toured Shivamogga, Uttara Kannada and Udupi and many roads in these areas are in a pathetic state. Surprisingly, in many rural areas, roads laid five or six years ago are fine, and those laid recently are crumbling. The government should ensure that money spent should serve the purpose."

PWD Minister CC Patil, who has been under pressure, told the media that his department is on the job. Patil had undertaken an inspection tour of roads in Hassan, Dakshina Kannada and Kodagu, and is currently in Koppal.

Congress media chief and MLA Priyank Kharge said that for three consecutive years, the State has received heavy rain, and there has clearly been insufficient planning on this front. Worse, there is no monsoon legislative session in August to raise these emergency issues, with the next session only in September, rues the opposition.

Meanwhile Biocon CMD Kiran Mazumdar Shaw, who had earlier angrily tweeted about pathetic roads, did so again a few days ago. But this time, she suggested a remedy, where workers are bringing in readymade 'road plasters' and using it like adhesive bandage on a stretch of potholed road. "Interesting technology for road repair," she wrote.

TRAFFIC ON BENGALURU-MYSURU HIGHWAY HIT FOR SECOND DAY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mysuru

UNINTERRUPTED rainfall in the region in the night hours since the last three days continued to hit the normal life as vehicular movement was disrupted on the busy Bengaluru -Mysuru highway for the second day after the historical Maddur lake breached resulting in overflowing of water on the roads. Several farmers complained of crop loss and farmlands submerged in water after following breach in Maddur lake.

On Tuesday, after Hosabadnuru lake was breached resulting in an overflow of water that hampered traffic on the Bengaluru-Mysuru highway, the situation got worsened on Wednesday after Maddur lake breached. However, by evening the situation got improved as the water level receded on the highway. Meanwhile, a godown that had stored rice and paddy got washed away after rainwater entered it incurring huge losses to the owner.

Vehicles coming from Bengaluru were diverted to Rudrakshipura, Vaidyanathapura, Maddur, KM Doddi, Mandya and Mysuru while vehicles from Mysuru were diverted through Srirangapatna, Mandya, Malavalli.

Geologists will study landslides, says CM

LATER speaking to the media, he said the house was below a hillock where there was a laterite quarry earlier. "Bhatkal received 533 mm rainfall. The place where the landslide occurred was mined for laterite blocks which had loosened the soil beneath and the heavy rainfall washed the soil and resulted in the tragedy," he explained. He said that to prevent such incidents in future, a study will be carried out in the region by geologists.

He pointed out that 14 districts have been affected by rainfall. "As many as 600 houses have been damaged completely, 2,312 houses are severely damaged, 14,578 partially damaged and 21,471 hectares of crop loss has been reported," he said.

"There is a huge loss of crops. Fishing boats are almost destroyed. Roads, bridges and school buildings have been damaged. Many traders are at loss due to waterlogging in front of their shops and business establishments. There is an estimated damage of Rs 30 crore. Since the monsoon is active, there might be further damage. Uttara Kannada Deputy Commissioner will disburse the funds for damaged houses under NDRF norms, but for shops and boats of fishermen, the government will issue a special grant," he announced. The repair and reconstruction of roads and bridges will be taken up after the PWD and NDRF submits a survey report, he said.

RED ALERT IN MOST PARTS OF K'TAKA

Bengaluru: Officials from the India Meteorological Department (IMD) have issued a red alert, forecasting very heavy rainfall over most parts of coastal and south interior Karnataka for the next two days (August 4 and 5). The red alert extends till August 6 for south interior Karnataka. The areas put on high alert include Dakshina Kannada, Udupi, Uttara Kananda, Shivamogga, Chikkamagaluru, Kodagu and surrounding areas. IMD officials have forecast over 204mm of rainfall a day. An orange alert has been sounded for August 6 along coastal Karnataka, and on August 4 and 5 over north interior Karnataka, with rainfall measuring between 115.6mm and 204.4mm a day. ENS

Ranganathittu sanctuary is Karnataka's first Ramsar site

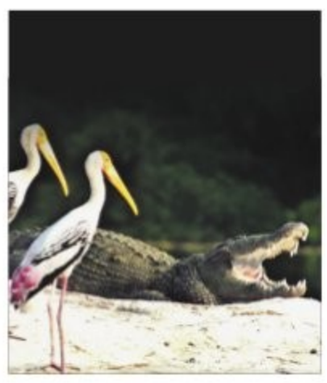
BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AFTER a wait of over ten years, Karnataka got its first Ramsar site on Wednesday. The ministry of environment, forests and climate change (MoEFCC) declared Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary in Mandya as a Ramsar site.

With this, the forest department, local administration and tourism department will not just be able to ensure better conservation, but also scale up its eco-tourism potential to international standards.

Located in the mid-stream of Cauvery river, Ranganathittu is an integral part of the wetland system and spreads across 517.70 hectares. It also finds a place in the Important Bird Areas (IBA) list of 42 sites in Karnataka that are identified by the Bombay Natural History Society.

Ranganthittu houses 188 species of plants, 225 species of birds, 69 species of fish, 13 species of frogs, 98 species of medicinal plants and 30 species of butterflies. It is an important breeding site for around 20 species of water birds, 17 of which breed on trees growing on islands at the spot. It houses healthy populations of mugger crocodiles (Crocodylus palustris), smooth-coated otter (Lutrogale perspicillata) and the endangered hump-backed mahseer fish (Tor remadevii). The site supports over 1 per cent of the world's population of Asian openbill, spotbilled pelican and black-headed ibis birds.



An official from the State Wetland Authority told The New Indian Express, "The work on declaring some more Ramsar sites in Karnataka is underway. They include Agnashini in Kumta, Ankasamudra in Ballari, Magadi in Gadag and Tungabhadra backwaters. More than us, MoEFCC is keen as the central wetland authority has assessed the waterbodies and commented that it is unfortunate that Karnataka had no such site so far. The Centre is aiming at declaring 75 Ramsar sites by August 15, in line with the country's 75th year of Independence."

The proposal to declare Ranganthittu as a Ramsar site was mooted by former chief conservator of forests, UV Singh. The country has 64 Ramsar sites till now, and on Wednesday, MoEFCC added Nanda Lake in Goa, Sirpur wetland in Madhya Pradesh and Satkosia Gorge in Odisha along with Ranganathitu to the list.

SC sets aside CBI inquiry against EPS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday set aside a Madras High Court ruling ordering a CBI probe into allegations of corruption against former Chief Minister and AIADMK leader Edappadi K Palaniswami in awarding road contracts.

A bench of Chief Justice NV Ramana and Justices Krishna Murari and Hima Kohli asked the HC to decide on the complaint against Palaniswami without being influenced by earlier observations or orders passed in the matter.

The Madras High Court, after taking note of the plea of DMK leader R S Bharathi, had in October 2018 passed the order transferring the probe on his complaint of tender irregularities to CBI for 'fair, reasonable and transparent probe'.

"We don't want CBI. We want an independent investigation," senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for DMK MP R S Bharathi, told the aex court on Wednesday.

REQUEST TO PUBLIC

Share old items on Railways

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru:

THE Bengaluru Railway Division has decided to establish Heritage Exhibition Centres and railway art galleries at four railway stations on the Bengaluru-Chikkaballapur light railway line. Retired railway employees, NGOs, institutions and the public have been urged to share items of historical value pertaining to Indian Railways.

An official release said Doddajala, Avatihalli, Devanahalli and Nandi Halt stations are being renovated and restored as heritage buildings. "It has been proposed to utilise old coaches as coach restaurants, art galleries and entertainment zones at these sites," it said.

New ideas and suggestions are also welcome.Those interested in chipping in can contact: Rakesh K Prabhu, Heritage Secretary, Bengaluru Division on 9731666400, and Shekhar S, Heritage Group member, on 8197311836.

Wild jumbo drowns in private estate pond in Kodagu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Madikeri

THE carcass of a wild elephant was found floating in a pond inside a private estate in South Kodagu on Wednesday. The incident was reported at BBTC estate in Badagabanangala village near Thithimathi forest limits. Sources confirmed it to be a case of natural death.

The carcass of the elephant lifted from the pond using a crane

Estate workers reporting to work on Wednesday spotted the carcass of an elephant floating inside the pond on the estate premises. Thithimathi division forest department officials were alerted and officials visited the spot. The carcass of the elephant was lifted using a crane. RFO Ashok confirmed that the wild elephant was aged approximately 60 years and had suffered a heart attack while inside the pond.

The female elephant had been recently radio-collared to track its movement to control the man-elephant conflict.

The carcass was buried by the department staff inside the private estate.

Last week, three wild elephants were electrocuted due to faulty power lines in estates of South Kodagu.

Elephant calf dies inside forest limits

Madikeri: A wild elephant calf was found dead in the Kushalnagar division forest limits. The elephant calf, aged approximately seven years, was lying dead in a pool of sludge inside the forest. Kushalnagar ACF Nehru and other forest department officials visited the spot. They opined that the elephant calf might have died after it came under the legs of other wild elephants in the herd. The officials concernedconducted a postmortem and buried the carcass inside the forest premises.

Nancy Pelosi

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

ILL-TIMED PELOSI POKE ON THE DRAGON IN THE EYE

By becoming the highest-ranking American official to visit Taiwan in 25 years, US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi poked the forever-insecure dragon in the eye, prompting it to schedule a series of war dances around the island it claims sovereignty over. Pelosi made the trip despite President Joe Biden telling her the US military thought it was not such a good idea. In a way, it showcased the maturity of democracy in the country where the President's writ does not run on his party colleague even if it impairs his foreign policy objectives. When the time came for her to enter Taiwanese airspace, the US administration rallied around Pelosi by scrambling fighter jets to escort her safely in, as Chinese warplanes were simultaneously making aggressive manoeuvres in the vicinity.

That the US alone has the military muscle to make China hesitate to launch a war is a given. But Pelosi got her timing completely wrong. The Ukraine war has already messed up economies across the globe and left millions more starving than ever before. Under US pressure, China has not yet contributed to Russian President Vladimir Putin's war machine. If that changes in retaliation, it would accelerate Putin's bombing of Ukraine into the stone age and drain Western coffers further. As for Xi Jinping, he cannot ignore Pelosi's challenge since it would have a political cost at home as he prepares for a third term as Chinese President. The US has a weird One China policy that does not accept Beijing's sovereignty over Taiwan but opposes Taipei's independence. China is wary of the possible erosion of that US policy, determined as it is to annex Taiwan at an opportune moment. India is watching the showdown from the sidelines, looking for takeaways, locked in a face-off with the PLA in Ladakh.

So, why is Pelosi needling China now? She is a known critic of its pathetic human rights record, and Taiwan's resistance to mainland bullying makes her a natural ally. There is already bipartisan support in the US for arming Taiwan. Is Pelosi using the trip as a prep for a Democrat presidential run in a couple of years since Biden already appears to be a lost cause?

TIME TO SMOOTHEN RUFFLED FEATHERS

Revenge killings are back in coastal Karnataka. Last fortnight's horrendous murders of three young men from the majority and minority communities do not bode well for the Basavaraj Bommai government, which is facing a revolt in the ranks. The spate of resignations by local leaders and office-bearers rocked the BJP leadership. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and his lieutenants promised to adopt the Yogi Adityanath 'model' to appease the party workers, raising the spectre of rampaging bulldozers and selective imprisonment. Higher Education Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan invoked the 'encounter' method to threaten the 'other' side, labelling them 'terrorists'.

It came across as sabre-rattling by a rattled leadership but elicited cheers from the party rank and file, which is demanding that the BJP take the hardline and ban the People's Front of India and its associated parties, the Campus Front of India and Student Front of India. These utterances by leaders who are seen as moderate evoked sharp protests from liberals and civil society. CM Bommai is seen as having committed two mistakes. He visited the family of Praveen Nettaru, the BJP Yuva Morcha leader, and gave a compensation of ₹50 lakh, but skipped the families of Masood and Fazil. Two, he handed over only the Nettaru case to the NIA while the local police were probing the other two murders. This open discrimination by the state's chief minister has led to rancour and simmering discontent in the minority community in the coastal region, already deeply riven by communal hatred. Now, in a sudden change of heart, Bommai seems to have remembered his Rajdharma and said that all the dead young men are equal in his eyes, and he would soon visit the families of Masood and Fazil.

But the damage may have been done. Communal controversies have punctuated Bommai's year in office, and his image of a moderate leader with socialist roots has already taken a hit. Such polarisation could help the BJP in a poll year, but there is bound to be a blowback to the "five steps ahead of UP" rhetoric. CM Bommai should remember that this is the progressive state of Karnataka, not Uttar Pradesh.

The hurdles BSNL will have to surmount after the government unveiled the new package to remain a viable telecom services operator are daunting

BSNL'S HANDICAPS MAKE ITS REVIVAL A CHALLENGE

PROSENJIT DATTA

Senior business journalist

SOURAV ROY

The government is making one more effort to revive BSNL. It has announced an impressive ₹1.64 lakh crore package for the ailing public sector telecom operator. Three years ago, the government had also announced another plan of ₹69,000 crore to revive BSNL, but that was never fully implemented, nor did it turn around the firm.

The current package sounds very impressive, but the amount is not entirely a cash injection. A good amount of the ₹1.64 lakh crore comprises administrative allocation of 4G spectrum and debt restructuring. The rest is made up of financial support and viability gap funding. At any rate, it will give the troubled firm some financial leeway to improve operations. Meanwhile, before the government announced the package, BSNL had reduced its bloated manpower, narrowed its loss and turned profitable at the operating level.

While the government expects that BSNL will see a complete turnaround within a couple of years, the optimism is probably misplaced. BSNL has already lost the 4G game to its private sector rivals. All three private sector companies will launch 5G services in some circles by the end of the year, even while BSNL puts together its Pan India 4G network. (Though the government may well end up as the largest shareholder in Vi or Vodafone Idea after the conversion of AGR into equity shares, it is operating as a fully private player for all extents and purposes).

The hurdles BSNL will have to surmount after the government unveiled the new package to remain a viable telecom services operator are daunting. The 2019 revival package envisaged the merger of BSNL with MTNL, the other government-owned telecom operator. It made sense because the creation of two separate government-owned telecom corporations from the Department of Telecom never had any logic behind it. MTNL was asked to provide services in Delhi and Mumbai, while BSNL would do the same in the rest of the country. Both firms ended up as loss-making, inefficient corporations while the private sector players ate into their market share. If they weren't government companies, they would have died like several private sector players who failed to keep pace in the Indian telecom arena.

Earlier this year, however, the government announced that the merger of MTNL and BSNL was being deferred because of the accumulated debt of the two firms. It is likely that the fresh revival package with debt restructuring and financial support could see the merger going through in the next couple of years, but that is by no means certain.

The problem with BSNL (and MTNL) is that their historical advantages have eroded over the years. BSNL had a wider and deeper reach across the country than any private sector player primarily because most of its rivals were focusing on urban areas with better revenue potential.

For a long time, BSNL, therefore, retained a fairly strong grip in rural areas and even in small towns. Its landline network helped as well. It was also asked to execute a portion of the ambitious BharatNet project to give all Panchayats in the country high-speed broadband access.

> In most PSUs, and that includes BSNL, there is not enough operational freedom to take decisions quickly and improve operations. Critical decisions like entry into 4G and bidding aggressively for additional spectrum needs clearance from above. Asset monetisation cannot be done quickly

The problem is that poor execution has marred its effort. And its stranglehold on rural and semi-urban areas has been reduced considerably because of the march of Reliance Jio, Airtel, and even Vodafone. Its inability to service its customers properly, absence of 4G networks, and therefore inability to give high-speed broadband to its customers have spoiled its reputation. The absence from the key markets of Delhi and Mumbai hasn't helped.

But BSNL's biggest problem is the same that plagues all PSUs. Despite being corporations, most PSUs have been unable to break out of the government office culture with little freedom, accountability or prospects for professional growth. In the fast-changing telecom technology arena, the ability to take quick decisions is critical for survival, and BSNL doesn't have that.

Also, government-owned entities suffer from another issue. They are expected to fulfil the social goals of the government and not just chase revenues and profits. That is why not all decisions are taken purely guided by commercial viability.

It is not that PSUs do not have some excellent employees at all levels. Many of the bigger PSUs have been a happy hunting ground for private companies looking for experienced people in different sectors. Erstwhile PSU employees often do very well after joining the private sector. This is primarily because they offer a better environment to take the initiative and because decision-making is quicker and often the focus is on output and outcome.

In most PSUs, and that includes BSNL, there is not enough operational freedom to take decisions quickly and improve operations. Critical decisions like entry into 4G and bidding aggressively for additional spectrum needs clearance from above. Asset monetisation cannot be done quickly. Nor can a culture of customer orientation and marketing be enforced because of the HR systems and processes.

When the government announces a revival package for any PSU, it rarely tries to fix the basic problem that hinders the PSU in the first place. And that is why few of its revival plans work in banking or aviation.

RETIRE JUDGES LATE, REAP BENEFIT OF EXPERIENCE

JUSTICE V PARTHIBAN (RETD)

Retired Judge, Madras High Court

Several articles and write-ups have periodically appeared in the print media on the subject of retirement age, emphasizing the need to enhance it for Judges of the High Courts and the Supreme Court of India. In 2010, the 114th Amendment to Constitution proposed to enhance the age of retirement of High Court Judges on par with the Supreme Court, i.e., 62 years to 65. Political developments stifled the passage of the change.

Earlier, in 2000, Justice M N Venkatachaliah Commission on Constitutional reforms recommended the enhancement of the age of retirement to 65 and 68 for the High Court and the Supreme Court Judges, respectively. While Judges in the Supreme Court of the United States (SCOTUS) serve for life, the average age in other countries, including the UK, is 70 years.

In April 2022, Justice N V Ramana, Chief Justice of India—slated to retire on August 26, 2022—said it is a pity that in India we do not exploit the experienced talent pool. He was in a Webinar along with SCOTUS Judge Stephen Breyer, who recently retired at 83. A senior Judge with considerable experience on the bench acquires the felicity to dispose of matters far quicker.

How old is too old?

Judges have always been placed on a higher pedestal, uniformly all over the world. The underlying concept of prescription of higher age for the Judges is to shepherd the institution, which is the custodian of public conscience of civil society, sagely and wisely. Knowledge and insight come with experience, and experience comes with judicious ageing. To say the obvious, judicious use of experience yields better results. After all, a judge cannot retire from his or her experience. A British author has aphoristically observed, "Judges don't age; time decorates them!".

The Constitutional Courts must deliver judgements having exalted precedential value, exemplifying judicial panache and acumen. The quality of judging variegated causes and disputes of myriad kinds will be relatively finer when further experience is at play.

A judge has an evolving persona—moulded with the passage of scholarly time spent on the judicial pulpit. The system has to make judges out of common persons, who inevitably suffer from the same foibles as their fellow citizens.

Metamorphosis towards achieving a wholesome judicial temperament and equanimity is likely to ripen into fruition in their autumn years. Compulsorily retiring such well-trained judges in the prime of their performance does not do justice to the system. Their contribution to the institution, when better posited, is regretfully aborted.

No retirement from professional life

In reality, these Judges, barring a few, continue to be active as members of various Tribunals, Boards, Commissions, etc., where the retirement age is much higher. Even after the post-retirement sinecures, the Judges continue to be professionally engaged in private arbitrations using their experience on the bench. Such expertise is lost to the institution. Some octogenarian Judges remain active in the arbitration circuit. The scholarship and erudition gained in their former avatars are appropriated for personal and private causes. It is disquieting that the institutions meant to serve seminal public interests are deprived of their seasoned services when it matters longer.

What is the way forward?

There are more than 58 lakh cases pending before High Courts and 69,000 cases before the apex court.

> Judges have always been placed on a higher pedestal, uniformly all over the world. The underlying concept of prescription of higher age for the Judges is to shepherd the institution, which is the custodian of public conscience of civil society, sagely and wisely. Knowledge and insight come with experience, and experience comes with judicious ageing

Clamour for more Judges is not the solution as a panacea for the pendency pandemic.

The Judges are increasingly being appointed based on expediencies without incisive scrutiny of their candidature, infusing the system with mediocrity. As numbers increase, the institution is denuded of its collective standing. Justice has become judge-centric, too often allowing judicial vagaries to creep into the system. The absence of cohesive institutional outcomes leading to uncertainty, coupled with notorious delay in disposal of cases, have made judicial remedy a dreadful option for the litigants.

Every High Court has sufficient sanctioned strength to tackle the caseload. Even with the present opaque collegium system in vogue, it can still ensure that persons appointed do not become disappointments. It may suffice to quote the legendary Chief Justice M C Chagla, "Mere increase in the number of judges does not necessarily improve the quality of the work done; nor does it result in a reduction of arrears."

Article 224 A

"Men and women approaching retirement age should be recycled for public-service work, and their companies should foot the bill. We can no longer afford to scrap-pile people". These words of wisdom of Maggie Kuhn, an American activist who fought for the rights of older people, would aptly apply to the present crisis-ridden judiciary.

Art. 224-A was the 15th Amendment to the Constitution of 1963 vintage, enabling retired judges to be appointed to High Court (ad hoc) on a contract basis. Despite the availability of this provision, since 1963, the same has been resorted to only on three stray occasions for short periods in the past. There are Judges who, despite their constant engagement in more lucrative private assignments/parleys, are willing to serve the institution even in the capacity of ad hoc Judges with curtailed privileges. Discharge of public duty certainly gives a sense of pride and fulfillment than commercially exploiting their scholarship and experience, serving their self-interests.

Appointing ad hoc Judges in terms of Article 224-A involves a simple procedure, with no need for the sanction of the post. The appointments can be fast-tracked with the recommendation of the Chief Justice of the Court concerned.

The fundamental idea of having additional and ad hoc Judges, as provided in the Constitution, is to address the mounting docket explosion in the Courts. A Bench of the Supreme Court in Lok Prahari (2021), responding to a public interest litigation on the aspect of mounting arrears, has observed that such appointments are essential and mandatory as effective means to reduce pendency. But unfortunately, the Government has not bitten the bullet.

Hope the Government would accord foremost priority to saving the higher judiciary from becoming a moribund justice delivery system to the lasting benefit of 'We The People'.

Pelosi in Taiwan

Nancy Pelosi's visit to Taiwan despite China's warnings has a high tendency to create a rift. This visit will be considered as an interference in China's internal affairs, threatening peace and stability across Taiwan. If the USA continues to undermine China-US relations, it will lead to a very serious situation and will result in grave consequences on the global platform. The presence of a senior American figure like Pelosi not only suggests support for Taiwan's independence but also implies criticism towards China; Pelosi has openly criticised its human rights violations in the past. The main concern, however, is the fate of the Taiwanese people.

INDIA TIGHT-LIPPED OVER PELOSI'S VISIT TO TAIWAN

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA has maintained a studied silence over the visit of US Speaker Nancy Pelosi to Taiwan that has triggered a diplomatic firestorm, with China taking little time to scramble jets over the Taiwan Straits.

The government's decision to remain seemingly cold to the developments in Taiwan comes even as Beijing remains a major irritant for India which, as part of the Quad (along with the US, Australia and Japan), has been taking concrete steps to thwart China's aggressive posturing in the Indo-Pacific.

Like the US, India follows the 'One China' policy. After China and Taiwan split in 1949, the 'One China' policy doesn't recognise the separate existence of Taiwan. However, Pelosi's visit to Taiwan is a break from it.

"India, too, refused to reaffirm the 'One China' policy in 2010, after Chinese Premier Wen Jiabao visited India. New Delhi was miffed after Beijing issued 'stapled visas' instead of normal visas for residents of Jammu and Kashmir travelling to China. However, despite all this and the tension around the LAC, India has chosen not to comment on this episode as any comment could escalate tensions further," said a source.

US takes break from 'One China' policy

Like the US, India follows the 'One China' policy. After China and Taiwan split in 1949, the 'One China' policy doesn't recognise the separate existence of Taiwan. However, Pelosi's visit to Taiwan is a break from it

Even though India doesn't have formal diplomatic ties with Taiwan, New Delhi has been continuously engaged with the country and focussed on strengthening trade. After the Galwan clashes in 2020, Gourangalal Das, then joint secretary (Americas) in the Ministry of External Affairs, was sent as ambassador to Taipei.

India has an office in Taipei for diplomatic functions called the India Taipei Association headed by a senior diplomat and Taiwan has the Taipei Economic and Cultural Centre in New Delhi. Both were established in 1995. Taiwanese Ambassador Chung-Kwang Tien was invited for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's swearing-in ceremony in 2014.

Bilateral trade between India and Taiwan is on the ascendant. "India and Taiwan signed a bilateral investment agreement in 2002 which came into effect in 2005. Bilateral trade grew from $2 billion in 2006 to $7 billion in 2020. FDI inflows from Taiwan to India was $698.6 million between 2000 to 2021," said a source.

While India has refrained from commenting on Pelosi's Taiwan trip, Russia and Pakistan have denounced the visit which China has dubbed a "reckless and provocative" move. Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov called it "pure provocation" while the Pakistan Foreign Office said the world is already reeling through a critical situation due to the Ukraine conflict and cannot afford another crisis that has negative consequences for global peace, security and economy.

Return of Navy's lone carrier delayed

A fire incident has prevented INS Vikramaditya to swing into maritime action again

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

INDIA'S lone aircraft carrier 44,500 tonne INS Vikramaditya is undergoing a major refit and is not in operations for more than a year. Its return has been delayed due to the recent fire onboard.

Sources in the defence circle confirmed to this newspaper, "INS Vikramaditya was undergoing an 18 month long refit and maintenance cycle since early 2021 and was expected this month had the fire not occurred." It will now take an additional few months before it gets deployed for operations, the source added.

A major fire was reported aboard the carrier on July 20 while undergoing a planned sortie for sea trials as part of the refit and maintenance.

Every warship and submarine follows a maintenance and refit routine, as per a planned cycle, which ranges from a week-long routine to more than a year. The refit time depends on the size and the work required to be done and during this period the boats are out of operation. The INS Vikramaditya has earlier underwent two refits since it was inducted into the Indian Navy in 2013, with the last one lasting five months and done in 2018 at Cochin Shipyard. Under the maintenance plan since then it was scheduled for a longer maintenance routine to be conducted in 2020 or 2021. "While the ship was due for refit and maintenance it was kept operational during Galwan as the country needed It." said the source.

While the previous time the carrier's hull got treated and painted and a large number of tanks and spaces were also cleaned and painted too. In addition some work on the shafts - the carrier has four of them, was done. The bearings of the shafts were also changed then.

As reported by TNIE the Indian Navy has been pitching for the third aircraft carrier for a long time. The logic put across is that the country should have at least two active carriers at any given time. In such a case availability of three aircraft carriers will give options of deploying one each on the eastern and western seaboard and the third can be put to the maintenance and repair cycle which can stretch up to years.

Given the Chinese belligerence in the Indian Ocean, the officers had said that the country will have to extend air power into far-off areas like the Malacca Strait on one side and Gulf of Aden on the other. "Concentration of force is a principle of war. If you have two operationally ready carriers, you can be active in two areas. If needed, you can move it, bringing a different environment to the battle."

Meanwhile, with its prowess in manufacturing, China has become the biggest navy with 355 warships and submarines with India having a fleet of 130 of them.

Oppn dismayed over 'enhanced' powers of ED after SC judgment

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Opposition on Wednesday expressed deep apprehensions on long-term implications of the recent Supreme Court judgment upholding the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002, allowing the Enforcement Directorate (ED) to retain a lot of brazen powers that can be exercised by the agency during the course of various investigations.

The 17 Opposition parties issued a joint statement, saying the judgment should have awaited the verdict of a larger bench for examining the constitutionality of the Finance Act route to carry out amendments. This comes after ED raids against several Opposition leaders and the office of the National Herald in the national capital.

Both the Houses of Parliament also saw protests with the Opposition raising misuse of investigative agencies by the government to target party leaders. The Lok Sabha saw repeated adjournments over the issue while in Rajya Sabha opposition MPs from Congress, Shiv Sena and AAP gave notices to discuss "misuse" of central agencies but were turned down by Rajya Sabha Chairman Venkaiah Naidu.

The joint statement was signed by the Opposition parties, including Trinamool Congress (TMC), Congress, DMK, Aam Aadmi Party (AAP), Shiv Sena, NCP, CPI-M, CPI, IUML, RSP, MDMK, RJD and RLD.

Alleging that the amendments have made it more conducive for the government to engage in political vendetta, the joint statement said the judgment will have the long-term implications of the recent.

"These far-reaching amendments strengthened the hands of a government, indulging in political vendetta of the worst kind, by using these very amended laws relating to money laundering and investigation agencies, to target its political opponents in a mischievous and malicious manner," said the statement.

"We are also very disappointed that the highest judicial authority, invited to give an independent verdict on the lack of checks and balances in the Act, has virtually reproduced arguments given by the executive in support of draconian amendments. We hope that the dangerous verdict will be short lived and constitutional provisions will prevail soon," it further added.

The SC on 22 July had upheld several provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002, allowing the Enforcement Directorate (ED) to retain a lot of brazen powers, including that of arrest, attachment, search and seizure.

NEW DELHI: A parliamentary committee external affairs criticised the government over the absence of a "clear-cut" policy on engaging with the Indian diaspora and recommended bringing out a document to serve as a guiding principle for a deeper and wider connection with the community. It also expressed its displeasure over absence of database of the Indian diaspora.

Give ideas for panel on freebies: SC

ENS @ New Delhi

THE SC on Wednesday sought suggestions from all stakeholders, including the Centre, Niti Aayog, Finance Commission and the RBI on the formation of a panel to brainstorm on curbing freebies announced by parties in the run up to the polls.

A bench comprising Chief Justice N V Ramana and justices Krishna Murari and Hima Kohli said, "The Election Commission and the government cannot say that we cannot do anything about this."

The Centre, through Solicitor General Tushar Mehta, changed its position and supported the ban on freebies. The Centre had earlier sought to pass the buck to the poll body, saying the question of freebies needs to be dealt with by the EC.

The court, while listing the PIL of lawyer Ashwini Upadhyay for further hearing on Thursday, said all stakeholders should think on it and give suggestions. The PIL opposes the practice of parties promising freebies during elections.

LS passes bill to establish Gati Shakti University

New Delhi: The Lok Sabha Wednesday passed a bill that seeks to transform the National Rail and Transportation University into central university to be called Gati Shakti Vishwavidyalaya. Currently, the National Rail and Transportation University located in Vadodara is a deemed-to-be-institution. The Central Universities (Amendment) Bill, which also seeks to expand the scope of the deemed university from beyond the railways to cover the entire transport sector to support the ambitious growth and modernisation in the field, was passed by a voice vote after a brief discussion.

People in vicinity of toll plazas to be exempted from paying tax: Gadkari

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

UNION road transport and highway minister Nitin Gadkari on Wednesday said that with the new arrangement — GPS or Vehicle Number Recognition System (VNRS) based toll collection — to be launched soon, people living in the vicinity of the toll plaza would not need to pay a user fee.

"It is unjustified, unlawful and not good. In the new system, which we are going to launch, we will see that the city area will be eliminated and there will be no charge on the people because they are taking only 10 kilometres (kms) of the road and are paying (toll) for 75 kms. That is absolutely wrong. But that is not my problem and it happened during the previous government. We will rectify the thing," said the minister in Rajya Sabha.

He was responding to the concerns expressed about toll collection from locals and setting up of a fee booth inside the city limits by MPs during Question Hour.

Congress MP Jebi Mather also raised the issue of two toll plazas located within a distance of 60 kilometres, which is not permitted.

Gadkari said that the Government is working on a plan to replace existing toll levying system with either GPS enabled or VNRS based fee collection and after selection of the technology and supporting legislation, the new arrangement might come into effect in six months.

> It is unjustified, unlawful and not good. In the new system, which we are going to launch, we will see that the city area will be eliminated and there will be no charge on the people because they are taking only 10 kilometres (kms) of the road and are paying (toll) for 75 kms
> NITIN GADKARI, Union minister for road transport and highway

"We are looking for two options. Satellite based system; there will be a GPS in the car and toll will directly be deducted from the bank account. And the other is a number plate (vehicle registration) based computer system which will use software. It will register entry and exit points and toll will be charged for the actual distance travelled. Within a month, we will select the best technology after which there will be no queue and traffic jams at toll plazas," the minister stated.

Big Tech never wanted this law: Tewari

"WHEN privacy is a fundamental right, how can the government be allowed to exempt themselves from ensuring the privacy of a citizen?" he asked.

He added the government should bring in the new law soon. "We only hope that the government does not take too long to bring in the new Bill because Indians are still vulnerable to data theft and there is no legal framework to protect the privacy of data," said Gogoi.

Echoing similar concerns, Prateek Waghre, policy director at Internet Freedom Foundation, said the government should take JPC's recommendations into account before bringing in a new bill. "The problem is that while on the one side we are debating the bill, the government is pushing ahead with a lot of other frameworks and digitisation programmes in the absence of a data protection regime," he said. Expressing disappointment, Congress MP Manish Tewari said a better legislation could have emerged had the bill been debated in the House. He said he had rejected the original data protectin bill in toto in the dissent note since it split the data universe into government, which was exempt, and the private sector where it would apply with full rigour. "Big Tech never wanted this Law. Big Tech won, India lost," he said.

India sets new climate target: 45% less emission

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

THE Union cabinet on Wednesday approved India's updated climate pledges having two quantitative targets — reduce Emissions Intensity of its GDP by 45 percent by 2030 and derive about 50 per cent electricity from non-fossil fuel-based energy resources by 2030 but made it clear that clean targets can be achieved with the help of transfer of technology and low-cost international finance including Green Climate Fund (GCF) from developed nations.

The updated Nationally Determined Contribution (NDC) under Paris Agreement will be submitted to the UN and to be implemented over the period 2021-2030. However, the pledges have reduced five quantitative targets "Panchamrit" announced by Prime Minister Narendra Modi at COP 26 last year. The once cleared by cabinet missed on three other 'Panchamrit' pledges — reduce the total projected carbon emissions by one billion tonnes from now till 2030, India to achieve net zero by 2070 and India will take its non-fossil fuel energy capacity to 500 GW by 2030.

Yes Bank, DHFL case: ED seizes ₹415 cr worth assets of 2 builders

SUMIT KUMAR SINGH @ New Delhi

THE ED has attached ₹415 crore worth assets of Maharashtra builders Avinash Bhosale and Sanjay Chhabria in Yes Bank and Dewan Housing Finance Corporation Ltd bank loan fraud linked money laundering case.

The agency has provisionally attached assets worth ₹251 crore of Sanjay Chhabria and assets worth ₹164 crore of Avinash Bhosale, total asset worth of ₹415 crore, under the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002. "Total attachment in the case stands at ₹1,827 crore," the ED said. The attached assets of Chhabria are in the form of a land parcel located in Santacruz, Mumbai, worth ₹116.5 crore, 25 percent equity shares of Chhabria's company held in land parcel, located at Bengaluru worth ₹115 crore, a flat located at Santacruz, Mumbai worth ₹3 crore, profit receivable from hotel belonging to Chhabria located at Delhi Airport worth ₹13.67 crore and three high end luxury cars worth ₹3.10 crore.

Further, attached assets of Bhosale are in the form of Duplex Flat belonging to Bhosale, located in Mumbai worth ₹102.8 crore, one land parcel located at Pune worth ₹14.65 crore, one more land parcel located at Pune worth ₹29.24 crore, a land parcel located at Nagpur worth ₹15.52 crore and another portion of land located at Nagpur to the extent of ₹1.45 crore. The agency initiated investigation against Rana Kapoor of Yes Bank and Kapil Wadhawan and Dheeraj Wadhawan Promoters of DHFL on the basis of an FIR registered in Delhi. It was alleged that Kapoor had entered into a criminal conspiracy with Kapil Wadhawan.

Ayushman scheme stalled in Punjab

The state government has stopped making reimbursements under the scheme to hospitals

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

IT has been three months since hospitals in Punjab have stopped treatment under the Ayushman Bharat Yojana as the state government has stopped making reimbursements under the scheme to private as well as government hospitals in the state.

Such hospitals also include PGIMER, Government Medical College and Hospital, Sector 32, GMSH-16 in Chandigarh.

The state government has to pay about ₹200 crore to these hospitals under the scheme.

Sources said the dues have been pending for six months, as one of the insurance providers has been delisted. The government will now provide the amount in the trust model, where the money is pooled from a trust rather than from an insurance company.

"By using the trust model, the state will release ₹100 crore initially to re-start the scheme soon," said the official.

Sources said insurance reimbursement due to the government, private, charitable and other hospitals in Punjab is pending with the state government. Besides, the state government has to clear the dues of PGIMER, Government Medical College and Hospital, Sector 32, GMSH-16 at Chandigarh, which are around ₹21.3 crore.

The government has to pay ₹16 crore to PGIMER, ₹3 crore to GMSH-16 and ₹2.3 crore to GMCH-32. These hospitals have also stopped taking these patients from the state.

"I had one cycle of chemotherapy and needed two more. With the Ayushman scheme not in operation in PGI or GMCH-32 anymore, I do not know where to get money from," said Savitri Devi, a patient from Jalandhar.

A K Sinha, Principal Secretary, Finance, Punjab said, "The issue will soon be resolved."

Punjab Finance Minister Harpal Singh Cheema said the amount for the dues has been sanctioned.

On the pending dues of private hospitals, Cheema said the government had also to clear dues to the tune of around ₹250 crore of private hospitals under the scheme. An inquiry into allegations of malpractices is going on, he added.

He held the previous Congress government responsible for the delay and said the government had cancelled the agreement with the insurance company on December 29 last year. Over 700 empanelled hospitals in Punjab started the insurance scheme from 2019 for some 40 lakh families.

Dr Navjot Dahiya, national vice president of Indian Medical Association, said after December 29 last year, the state government had made no payment under the scheme to private, charitable and other hospitals.

Indian Medical Association, Punjab Chapter President Dr Paramjit Singh Mann says until the pending payments are cleared, "We will not entertain patients under any other scheme of the government as we have suffered losses."

Healthcare sector in limbo

Insurance reimbursement to pvt as well as govt hospitals not cleared yet

- Under the scheme, the state government has to pay about ₹200 crore to these hospitals under the scheme
- The government has to pay ₹16 crore to PGIMER, ₹3 crore to GMSH-16 and ₹2.3 crore to GMCH-32. These hospitals have also stopped taking these patients from the state

HC asks for 5% quota for ex-armymen in UPPSC prelim results

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE Allahabad High Court has quashed the results of PCS Preliminary examinations-2021 and directed the Uttar Pradesh Public Service Commission (UPPSC) to issue results afresh after giving 5% per reservation to ex-army personnel on group-B and group-C posts.

Allowing a writ petition filed by four junior commissioned officers who retired from the Army, Justice Sangeeta Chandra said the exam results, declared without giving reservation benefit to ex-armymen, stood quashed.

The petitioners had requested the court to issue direction to UPPSC to implement 5% reservation for ex-servicemen in the ongoing selection process for the Combined State Upper Subordinate Services (PCS) Examination-2021 and the Assistant Conservator of Forest/Range Forest Officer Services Examination-2021.

The last date for online application for the PCS Prelims was March 5, 2021, which was later extended to March 17, 2021. An amendment regarding the provision of 5% reservation for ex-servicemen were notified on March 3, 2021 in the State Gazette. The petitioners said that despite the publication of the notification before the last date of application, the UPPSC refused to give the benefit of reservation to the ex-servicemen.

The court, in its order dated August 2, said, "After publication of Preliminary examination results afresh within one month, admit cards be issued for the Main written examination accordingly and results, thereof, be declared giving 5% reservation on Group-B and Group-C posts to ex-army personnel."

The UPPSC had declared the results of prelims on December 1, 2021 and held the mains-2021 between March 23 and 27, 2022. Result of mains was declared on July 12.

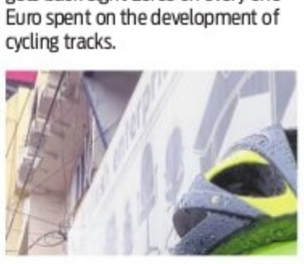
100-feet high flag at last border village Gunji

For the people from Uttarakhand serving in the armed forces this is a decades-old tradition. 'Har Ghar Tiranga' campaign now holds a greater significance with Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami's announcement of hoisting a tricolour on a 100-feet high flag pole at Gunji village which is triangularly situated in Pithoragarh district which borders China and Nepal. Gunji village is at an altitude of 14,500 feet above sea level, is also a health check point for Kailash Mansarovar pilgrims. Apart from CM's appeal to hoist tricolour on each of the 20 lakh houses in the state, Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav will be celebrated with much zeal.

Modi effect: IAS officer switches to bicycle

Highly inspired by Prime Minister Narendra Modi's launching of "lifestyle for the environment movement", a senior IAS officer has bade goodbye to the official luxury car and switched to a bicycle. A 2004-batch IAS officer, BVRC Purshottam (in pic) was so turned up after listening to the PM on June 5 that he began commuting from his official residence to office on a bicycle. "It really helped me in cultivating a mindset for fitness," said Purshottam, who has served as commissioner, Garhwal and DM, Dehradun. He also cited an example of Netherlands, where government gets back eight Euros on every one Euro spent on the development of cycling tracks.



Panchayat buildings to be redone traditionally

Uttarakhand state government has chalked out a plan to built and renovate panchayat buildings according to traditional architecture of the Sikkim hills. Satpal Maharaj, state's panchayati raj and culture minister said that the Union Ministry of Panchayati Raj has already approved `135 crore for the state under the Central scheme Rashtriya Gram Swaraj Abhiyan (RGSA). Satpal said, "By this concept, the cultural heritage and traditions of devbhoomi will be restored, which will attract more tourists to the state." The funds from Centre will be used for training and fulfilment of sustainable development of gram panchayats.

DEFECTION: SC ASKS SHINDE GROUP FOR FRESH RESPONSE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday asked the Shiv Sena faction led by Chief Minister Eknath Shinde to redraft their submissions on petitions filed by the rival Uddhav Thackeray group. The petitions concern the constitutional issues arising due to the recent political crisis in Maharashtra.

A bench headed by Chief Justice N V Ramana was hearing petitions filed by the Shiv Sena and its rebel MLAs on constitutional issues of splits, merger, defection and disqualification. Senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for the Uddhav Thackeray faction, said the MLAs who have sided with Shinde can save themselves from disqualification under the tenth schedule of the Constitution only by merging the splinter group with another party.

They have no other defence available, Sibal submitted before the bench, also comprising Justices Krishna Murari and Hima Kohli.

"Once you have been elected it does not mean the umbilical cord with the political party is severed and that you have nothing to do with your political party," Sibal said. Senior advocate Harish Salve, appearing for the Shinde faction, said the anti-defection law is not a weapon for political leaders – who have suffered desertions under their command – to use against their partymen.

Referring to factual aspects, Salve said it is not the case that the MLAs have voluntarily given up their membership of the political party. "It is not a case of defection. Today it is the case of intra-party rebellion and nobody has given voluntary membership from the party," Salve said.

The Bench also asked Salve to redraft the questions of law. The bench would take the case as first matter on Thursday.

Didi rejigs cabinet, makes Babul minister

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

WEST Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday reshuffled her cabinet by inducting eight new ministers, including former BJP MP Babul Supriyo, and elevating Sashi Panja as the commerce and industry minister, the department which was headed by Partha Chatterjee.

The reshuffle is significant as it comes days after the arrest of Chatterjee in connection with the alleged scam in the recruitment in schools.

Supriyo was made minister-in-charge of the department of tourism and information technology. "I thank Mamata didi. The Trinamool Congress has accepted me. I am very charged now. I will work under the guidance of the chief minister," said the singer-turned-politician.

The former BJP MP, who defected to the TMC in September last year, was a harsh critic of the Mamata Banerjee-led government and often courted controversies through his statement against Bengal's ruling party. He decided to switch over to the TMC after his name was removed from the Narendra Modi cabinet. He was Union minister of state for environment, forest and climate change. Supriyo also contested from Tollygunge Assembly constituency in the 2021 Assembly elections on BJP's ticket, but was defeated.

Mamata inducted a new face, Satyajt Barman, as the Minister of State (education) in place of Paresh Adhikari whose name was cropped up in the alleged school recruitment scam. The Calcutta High Court ordered to sack Adhikari's daughter Ankita and replace her by a candidate who was competent but deprived. Though minister-in-charge, education department, Bratya Basu, will continue.

Among the eight new faces, five are ministers-in-charge, while others are ministers of state. The ministers in-charge are Supriyo, Snehasish Chakrabarty, Partha Bhowmik, Udayan Guha and Pradip Majumdar. Besides, Birbaha Hansda, who was minister of state in Junglemahal, was elevated to minister of state with independent charge.

"The chief minister decided to give Sashi Panja huge responsibility of heading the department of commerce and industries along with two other departments," said a senior TMC leader.

Udayan Guha, an MLA from Dinhata in Cooch Behar, was made the minister-in-charge of North Bengal Development department. Guha's elevation is significant as he represents a constituency in North Bengal from where the BJP had won all eight Lok Sabha seats in 2019 elections. "Guha's elevation seems to be focused to ensure a dent in BJP's vote-bank in north Bengal," said a TMC leader.

Similarly elevation of Birbaha as minister of state with independent charge is aimed at wooing voters in Junglemahal from where the BJP had won three seats in 2019. "Appointing Pradip Majumdar as panchayat minister is also significant as he was elected from Durgapur East, which is part of Bengal's industrial zone where the BJP performed well in 2019 polls," said the leader.

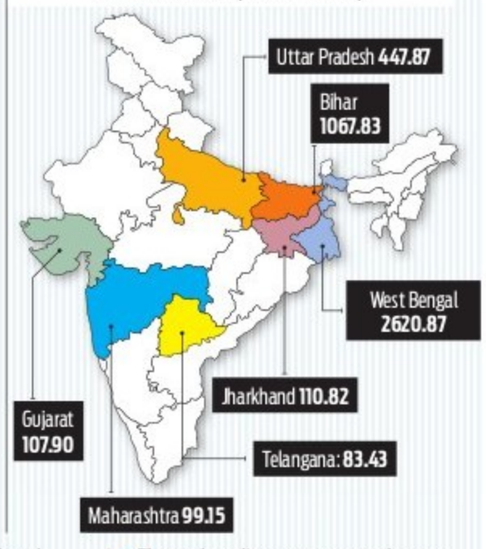
Pending liabilities to states under MGNREGS (in crores)



- Workers from 18 states are participating in the two-day protest, which is being organized by NREGA Sangharsh Morcha
- The wage rates remain much below the need-based national minimum wage of ₹375 recommended by the expert committee in 2019. Except for states like Kerala, Jharkhand, and Bihar, the wages are still below the rural inflation rate
- The total pending wages to several states stood at ₹4,720.22 crore, as per the govt. Large states like Bihar and UP are to receive dues of ₹1,067.83 crore and ₹447.87 crore respectively
- Apart from this, the Centre also owes ₹2,537.32crore to 34 states and UTs as the cost of material components developed by workers under the scheme

Kuldeep Bishnoi to quit as MLA, join BJP

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

EXPELLED Haryana Congress leader and MLA Kuldeep Bishnoi will resign as legislator on Thursday and join the BJP. The entry of Bishnoi, who is the son of former CM Late Bhajan Lal, is likely to boost the saffron party's hold on the non-Jat vote bank in the state.

Bishnoi, accompanied by his wife Renuka and mother Jasma Devi, announced to resign from the assembly on Thursday and join the BJP a day after. He was elected from Adampur seat on a Congress ticket.

Interacting with his supporters at his shop-cum-residence at the grain market in Adampur town of Hisar, Bishnoi asked them to accompany him to Delhi where he will join the BJP. Justifying his switch, Bishnoi told his supporters, "I will be able to get development projects on joining the ruling party. Developmental works can be done only while staying in power. Haryana Chief Minister Manohar Lal Khattar is a good and large-hearted man and has a vision for development."

Bishnoi did not reveal whether his son Bhavya Bishnoi or he himself will be the candidate if a by-election is held in Adampur after he joins the BJP.

A four-time MLA from Adampur and two-time MP, Bishnoi had some time back met BJP president JP Nadda, Union Amit Shah and Haryana CM Manohar Lal Khattar.

The Congress had removed him from all key party posts after he cross-voted against the party's Rajya Sabha candidate Ajay Maken on June 10. He had been sulking ever since the Congress ignored him for the post of its Haryana unit chief during a revamp earlier this year and appointed Udai Bhan, a loyalist of former CM Bhupinder Singh Hooda.

Bishnoi and his father Bhajan Lal had floated the Haryana Janhit Congress (HJC) in 2007 after the Congress picked Hooda for the CM's post following the party's victory in the assembly polls. The HJC later entered into a tie-up with the BJP and two other parties and jointly contested the 2014 Lok Sabha polls in Haryana.

The alliance later broke and around six years ago, Bishnoi returned to the Congress. Despite his return to the grand old party, he was not entrusted with important positions in the party and his relations with Hooda always remained frosty.

GUJARAT: 2 NETAS QUIT CONG OVER MEVANI

AHMEDABAD: Unhappy with the growing stature of Dalit activist Jignesh Mevani within the Congress, the party's senior SC leader and former Rajya Sabha member Raju Parmar has announced that he is quitting the party along with former home minister and three-term MLA Naresh Raval. Both are likely to join the BJP.

The prominence being accorded to Mevani by the high command, especially Rahul Gandhi, has unsettled quite a few leaders in the Gujarat Congress. Parmar claimed that Mevani was being promoted despite the fact that he hadn't done much for the party so far.

Another senior SC leader of the Congress told this newspaper that Mevani was likely to be propped up as the party's Dalit face nationally. The leader said that Mevani's association with the party had not yielded any positive results, yet he was made working president, even though he didn't have any "connection with the grassroots".

Mevani was elected from Vadgam assembly constituency in 2017 as an 'Independent' candidate after the Congress vacated the seat for him. ENS

27 CHINESE JETS ENTER TAIWAN TERRITORY

TAIPEI

US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi (L) with Taiwan's President Tsai Ing-wen

TWENTY-SEVEN Chinese warplanes flew into Taiwan's air defence zone on Wednesday, Taipei said, as US House Speaker Nancy Pelosi made her controversial visit to the self-ruled island that Beijing considers its territory.

"27 PLA aircraft... entered the surrounding area of (Republic of China) on August 3, 2022," the defence ministry said in a tweet.

The incursion comes as China announced fresh military exercises around the Taiwan Strait in response to Pelosi's visit. The drills will include "long-range live ammunition shooting" in the Taiwan Strait, which separates the island from mainland China and straddles vital shipping lanes.

Taiwan's defence ministry described the drills as "an irrational move to challenge the international order".

"The Chinese military's conducting of military exercises in the sea near China's Taiwan are a necessary and just measure to resolutely protect national sovereignty," Chinese foreign ministry spokeswoman Hua Chunying told a regular media briefing.

"In the current struggle surrounding Pelosi's Taiwan visit, the United States are the provocateurs, China is the victim. The joint provocation by the US and Taiwan came first, China's just defense came after," she added.

China on Wednesday also imposed curbs on the import of fruit and fish from Taiwan.

Its customs authorities said it would suspend some citrus fruit imports over alleged "repeated" detection of excessive pesticide residue.

It also banned the import of certain fish from the island, pointing to the discovery of the coronavirus on packages.

These bans came a day after Taipei's Council of Agriculture said China had cited regulatory breaches in suspending the import of Taiwanese goods including fishery products, tea and honey.

Beijing has ramped up pressure on Taiwan since President Tsai Ing-wen took office in 2016, as she views the island as a de facto sovereign nation and not part of "one China".

The Chinese State Council's Taiwan Affairs Office said Wednesday that it will punish two Taiwan organisations with close links to "die-hard" secessionists — the Taiwan Foundation for Democracy and International Cooperation and Development Fund.

Meanwhile, Pelosi, meeting leaders in Taiwan, said she and other members of Congress in a visiting delegation are showing they will not abandon their commitment to the island. "America's determination to preserve democracy, here in Taiwan and around the world, remains ironclad," she said. "Today the world faces a choice between democracy and autocracy," she said.

In talks with investors for funding: SpiceJet

Airline's financial woes showing no signs of improvement, leasing firms have started rushing to reclaim their aircraft

ARSHAD KHAN @ NewDelhi

AMID stake sale rumours, debt-laden carrier SpiceJet said it continues to be in talks with various investors to secure sustainable financing.

"We will make appropriate disclosures in accordance with applicable regulations," said a SpiceJet spokesperson on Wednesday. As per reports, promoter Ajay Singh who owns nearly 60% stake in the airline of which about 44% is pledged or otherwise encumbered, has been approached by a 'big Middle Eastern airline' and a big Indian business conglomerate for a stake in the airline.

SpiceJet has not commented on the matter if they have been approached by the two aforementioned parties. "It is of utmost importance for SpiceJet to raise fresh capital to survive the current headwinds. Financially it is the weakest airline as neither it has backing of big business houses like Tata Group or Wadia Group nor it has the cash reserve of IndiGo," said a senior aviation analyst requesting anonymity.

He added that without adequate cash, Singh is unlikely to maneuver SpiceJet from crisis this time the way he did in 2015 when Kalanithi Maran of Sun Group handed over the airline back to Singh. At the end of Q3FY22, the company had negative retained earnings of ₹5,453.4 crore and a negative net worth of ₹3,830.7 crore. Its current liabilities had exceeded current assets by ₹6,344.1 crore. SpiceJet's financial auditors have time and again raised concerns over its ability to remain a going concern.

Currently, SpiceJet's financial woes are showing no signs of improvement. Aircraft leasing companies have started rushing to reclaim their aircraft, which were leased to SpiceJet over non-payment of dues. Then the airline is unable to meet its HR commitments. To this date, it hasn't restored pilot salaries to pre-covid level and is yet to give Form 16 to its employees for financial year 2021-22. Beside rising fuel prices, subdued traffic and increasing competition, SpiceJet aircraft faced numerous technical glitches mid-air in June and early-July. This prompted aviation regulator DGCA to restrict SpiceJet's flights to 50% of departures approved under the summer schedule.

Despite the financial constraints, shares of SpiceJet soared 12% on Wednesday. In the past 5 trading sessions, it is up by nearly 40%. The surge escalated when SpiceJet said that it has cleared all outstanding principal dues of Airports Authority of India (AAI) and it no longer remains on 'cash and carry' at AAI run airports.

Will Ajay Singh be able to maneuver SpiceJet?

Ajay Singh is unlikely to maneuver SpiceJet from crisis this time the way he did in 2015 when Kalanithi Maran of Sun Group handed over the airline back to Singh. At the end of Q3FY22, the company had negative retained earnings of ₹5,453.4 crore and a negative net worth of ₹3,830.7 crore

DRI DETECTS CUSTOMS DUTY EVASION BY VIVO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@NewDelhi

THE Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) on Wednesday said it has detected Customs duty evasion of nearly ₹2,217 crore from Vivo Mobile India, a subsidiary of China's Vivo Communication Technology.

The finance ministry, in its statement, said the searches were conducted by DRI officers at the factory premises of the Chinese tech-giant, which led to the recovery of incriminating evidence indicating wilful mis-declaration in the description of certain items imported by Vivo India for use in the manufacture of mobile phones.

"This mis-declaration resulted in wrongful availment of ineligible duty exemption benefits by M/s Vivo India, amounting to ₹2,217 crore. After completion of the investigation, a show-cause notice has been issued to M/s Vivo India demanding customs duty amounting to ₹2,217 crore, under the provisions of the Customs Act, 1962," said the ministry.

A sum of ₹60 crore has been voluntarily deposited by Vivo India towards discharge of their differential duty liability. Recently in another set of investigations conducted by DRI, show-cause notices demanding duty of ₹4,403.88 crore were issued to Oppo Mobiles India.

Lately Indian agencies have raided almost all Chinese mobile makers including Xiaomi, Oppo, Vivo and Huawei. The ED seized over ₹5,551 crore worth funds from Xiaomi tax evasion. The DRI has detected customs duty evasion of ₹4,389 crore by Oppo India. At the same time, the Department of Telecommunication (DoT) mandated telcos to source telecom equipment for expansion or upgrade of their existing network from trusted sources. It means Chinese telecom gear makers Huawei and ZTE will not be able to sale its products to Indian telecom operators.

The government has also banned 348 Chinese mobile applications, which were collecting users' information and transmitting them in an unauthorised manner to servers located outside the country for profiling.

"Based on the request from home ministry, the Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology (MeitY) has blocked those 348 mobile applications since such data transmissions infringes the sovereignty and integrity of India, defence of India and security of the State," said Meity ministry.

Unemployment rate falls to 6-month low of 6.8%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@NewDelhi

THE unemployment rate (UR) in India has dropped to a six-month low in July at 6.80%, driven by fall in rural unemployment. It stood at 7.80% in June.

The rural unemployment rate in the country saw a significant fall to 6.14% in July as against 8.03% in June. The urban unemployment rate in the month, however, has increased to 8.21% from 7.30% in June.

The joblessness rate was at its lowest before July in January this year at 6.56%. In terms of states, Haryana saw the highest UR in July at 26.9% followed by Jammu & Kashmir at 20.2%, Rajasthan at 19.1% and Bihar at 18.8%. At the same time, the lowest UR was seen by Chhattisgarh at 0.8% followed by Odisha at 0.9%, Meghalaya at 1.5% and Madhya Pradesh at 2%.

Experts say the fall in rural unemployment could be because of steady monsoons, which have led to a pick-up in agricultural activity. Mahesh Bhatt, chief business officer, TeamLease Services says major uptick in employment is due to public investments in PLI schemes – in solar cells manufacturing and in bulk drugs. "Also, timely rainfall has led to a pick -up in agricultural activity. The government's ₹2.65 lakh crore stimulus package is providing liquidity support to industries like tourism, aviation, construction, and Housing," he said. "Expected roll out of new labour codes is also creating positive sentiments in the employment market," Bhatt added.

Airtel to start 5G deployment from August 2022, signs network pacts with Ericsson, Nokia, Samsung

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@NewDelhi

TELECOM operator Bharti Airtel on Wednesday announced that it has signed 5G network agreements with Ericsson, Nokia and Samsung to commence 5G deployment in August 2022.

Following the agreement, these companies will supply telecom gears to Airtel to rollout its 5G services in the country. "We are delighted to announce that Airtel will commence roll-out of 5G services in August. Airtel will work with the best technology partners from across the world to deliver the full benefits of 5G connectivity to our consumers. India's transition into a digital economy will be led by telecom and 5G presents a game-changing opportunity," said Gopal Vittal, MD and CEO, Airtel.

The company said the 5G partnerships follow close on the heels of spectrum auctions conducted by the Department of Telecom (DoT) in India, where Airtel bid for and acquired 19867.8 MHZ spectrum in 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 3300 MHz, and 26 GHz frequency. However, the telcos don't have any choice other than choosing these companies as the DoT mandated telcos to source telecom equipment for expansion or upgrade of their existing network from trusted sources. This directive of the government leaves Chinese tech giants Huawei and ZTE out of the Indian market. Currently, Huawei has a 29% share of the global telecom equipment market, followed by Nokia and Ericsson at 15% each. Interestingly, almost all telecom operators Bharti Airtel, Vodafone Idea and state-owned BSNL have been using Chinese equipment in their networks.

Börje Ekholm, President and CEO of Ericsson, said with its unrivalled, global 5G deployment experience, it will help Bharti Airtel deliver full benefits of 5G to Indian consumers and enterprises, while evolving the Bharti network from 4G to 5G. Pekka Lundmark, President and CEO of Nokia, said Nokia's AirScale baseband and radio portfolio will deliver superior 5G performance in one of the world's largest networks.

Govt likely to come up with SoP for work from home in special economic zones

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ NewDelhi

AFTER the government notified the new rule on work from home (WFH) in special economic zones, it is now likely to come up with a standard operating procedure (SoP) this week on its implementation.

As per the new rule, the government will allow the WFH option to be extended to 50% of the staff, including contractual workers, and for a maximum period of one year, for firms operating in special economic zones (SEZ). The SoP for WFH implementation is expected to be issued within this week, as per government sources. "It is expected that issues such as laptop removal. ID card, flexibility of usage of WFH limit, etc. will be addressed and clarified in the SoP," say sources. The Department of Commerce said its new rule, namely Rule 43A - Work from Home in Special Economic Zones Rules, 2006 across all special economic zones, was issued on demand from the industry for making a provision for a country-wide uniform WFH policy across SEZ. The notification under Rule 43A provides WFH for staff of IT/ITeS SEZ units those who are temporarily incapacitatd, those travelling and working offsite. While the new rule restricts WFH to only 50% of staff, there is flexibility granted to the Development Commissioner (DC) of SEZs to approve a higher number of staff (over 50%) for any bona-fide reason to be recorded in writing.

Uber sells its entire 7.78% stake in Zomato for $392 million in bulk deal

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@NewDelhi

AS expected ride-hailing giant Uber Technologies on Wednesday sold its entire 7.78% stake in Zomato for $392 million in a bulk deal. As per data provided by the BSE, two institutional investors - Fidelity and ICICI Prudential Life Insurance - bought stakes in the loss making company.

Uber sold its entire 61.22 crore shares of Zomato at a price of ₹50.44 per share. Fidelity Investment Trust Fidelity Series Emerging Markets Fund bought 5.44 crore shares of Zomato in the bulk deal at an average price of ₹50.26, while ICICI PrudentialLife Insurance bought 4.5 crore shares at ₹50.25 per share. As per reports, nearly 20 global and Indian funds have taken a pie of the food-tech firm via a bulk deal on Wednesday. Shares of Zomato crashed about 10% on the BSE in the early trade on Wednesday on Uber's stake sale reports. However, it managed to close flat at ₹55.40 apiece.

Uber's exit raises questions on the future performance of Zomato stock, which is down over 60% in 2022. While analysts at large feel Zomato shares would reach ₹100 level in one year, Uber is exiting the firm at prices much lower than Zomato's IPO price of ₹76 and its 52-week high of ₹169. It could not exit earlier due to the mandatory one-year lock-in period of pre-IPO investors.Uber had sold Uber Eats, its food delivery business, in India in an all-stock transaction to Zomato in 2020 for a 9.99% stake. By the end of Q1FY2023, Uber was holding 7.78% in Zomato and was its second largest stakeholder, only after Info Edge (India) which owns over 15% stake in the company.

The stake sale by Uber comes just after the company in its Q2CY2022 results informed that it lost $245 million on its Zomato investment during the quarter and $707 million in the first half of the year. Uber's total losses in the June ending quarter came in at $2.6 billion but it turned cash flow positive for the first time. Meanwhile, Zomato reported narrowing its net losses by 48% to ₹186 crore in the June quarter and said it aims to reach EBIDTA breakeven by the Q4 of next year.

VIL's Q1 net loss narrows on tariff hike realisation

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@NewDelhi

VODAFONE IDEA'S consolidated loss narrowed to ₹7,296.7 crore for the June quarter compared to the year-ago period, as tariff hikes boosted its realisations.

The telco's loss stood at ₹7,319.1 crore in the year-ago period. The telco also announced that Ravinder Takkar will take over as Chairman with effect from August 19, while Himanshu Kapania will step down as non-executive Chairman. The Board has unanimously elected Takkar as Chairman, effective August 19, 2022. Takkar, currently MD and CEO of VIL, is a nominee of Vodafone Group, and a telecom industry veteran with over 30 years of experience. VIL's revenue from operations grew to about Rs 10,410 crore in the quarter ended June 30, 2022, improving nearly 14% from the year-ago period.

Its average revenue per user or ARPU - a key monitorable for telcom players - stood at ₹128 per subscriber for the quarter compared to Rs 104 in Q1FY22. This represented an improvement of 23.4% year on year, helped by tariff hikes.

Vodafone Idea CEO Ravinder Takkar said: "We continue to witness 4G subscriber growth on the back of superior data and voice experience...as well as due to our focus on creating differentiated digital experience for our customers."

IndiGo reports ₹1,064 crore loss in Q1FY23

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@NewDelhi

OWING to record rise in jet fuel prices and weakening of Indian rupee against US dollar, InterGlobe Aviation's net loss narrowed to ₹1,064.3 crore for the quarter ended June 30, 2022, even as its revenue from operations rose to a record 328% to ₹12,855.3 crore.

It had reported a net loss of ₹3,174.2 crore in the first quarter of FY22 as the second wave of covid-19 had then disturbed passenger movement.

The company's CEO Ronojoy Dutta said, "Our revenue performance this quarter was impressive. We reported the highest-ever revenue generated by the company and thereby produced profits at an operational level.

However, cost pressures on fuel and foreign exchange prevented us from translating this strong revenue performance into net profitability. While our financial performance in the second quarter will be challenged by weak seasonality, the long-term revenue trend remains strong."

BoI Q1 profit falls 22% to ₹561 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@NewDelhi

BANK OF INDIA on Tuesday reported a 22% fall in standalone net profit at ₹561 crore for the first quarter of FY23 on higher operating expenses, even as bad loans declined.

The lender had reported a net profit of ₹720 crore in the corresponding quarter ended June 2021. Sequentially, the net profit was down 7.4%. Total income during April-June 2022-23 fell to ₹11,124.36 crore from ₹11,641.37 crore in the year-ago period as income from other sources was down, Bank of India said in a regulatory filing.

The core interest income grew 7% in the quarter at ₹9,972.64 crore, while other income fell by over 50% to ₹1,152 crore. Operating expenses were higher by 12% during the quarter at ₹3,041 crore from ₹2,715 crore. On consolidated basis, the net profit in the first quarter of FY23 was down 11% at ₹657.62 crore compared to ₹735.37 crore.

Total income too fell to ₹11,207.57 crore from ₹11,709.62 crore. BoI improved on its asset quality as gross non-performing assets fell to 9.30% of gross advances by the end of June 2022.

Volvo launches new sleeper buses, says segment seeing sales of 5,000 units a month

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

INDIAN bus market, which was severely hit during the Covid period, has started showing signs of recovery as it is seeing sales of 5,000 units a month, said Vinod Aggarwal, MD and CEO of VE Commercial Vehicles (VECV).

Volvo Buses India, a division of VECV, on Wednesday announced the launch of Volvo 9,600 coach platform, which is available on the 15m and 13.5m configurations in sleeper and seater variants. The bus will be priced between ₹1.3 crore and ₹2 crore, depending on the level of customisation.

With the surge in fuel and airfare prices, the bus industry expects more people will prefer luxury bus rides. Aggarwal said the size of the bus market during pre-Covid times was 70,000 units a year, and it declined massively to 11,000 units per annum in 2021. "We are also expecting the luxury market to recover in coming months. The size of the luxury market is around 1,000 units," Aggarwal said. He added that the goal of the bus division at VECV is to shape the future of the Indian bus industry. The company has been investing ₹400-500 crore every year.

The coaches on the Volvo 9600 platform will be manufactured at its Hosakote plant, near Bengaluru. Akash Passey, President, bus division, VECV said as the bus industry recovers from a very tough period, bus operators continue to count on us to deliver solutions that address the aspirations of inter-city passengers. Volvo is also focusing on the 8-litre engine, which is more fuel efficient, and gradually over months, its 15m bus will shift towards the 8-litre engine from the present 11-litre.

BIRMINGHAM 2022 commonwealth games

15 | BENGALURU THURSDAY 04.08.2022

BRUM'S DAY

22 Australia have dominated swimming events at the Sandwell Aquatics Centre, winning 22 gold out of 43 on offer so far. World record holder Ariarne Titmus, who qualified for women's 400m freestyle final on Wednesday, will look to add to that tally.

"I think for me for winning this Commonwealth Games title was everything, the most important thing for me this season," said the 21-year-old Olympic bronze medallist. But I still have a lot of things to do in the future at the Olympics and world championships."

As Nitu Ganghas beats Northern Ireland's Nicole Clyde to secure a medal in Birmingham, Anmol Gurung chronicles the struggles the Haryana boxer had to overcome

TALE OF GRIT & SUCCESS: BOXER NITU LIVING FATHER'S DREAM

There is a deep bonding between father and daughter. Whatever she does, she has to share with her father. During training, after matches or just like that... she needs to speak with him. Like the father says, "She has to share her mind and I have to be there to help."

Nitu (R) went the extra mile to train at the fields in her village in Haryana during Covid lockdown

Nitu Ganghas was born in the fabled nursery of boxing, Bhiwani, and grew up learning about champions like Vijender Singh. Her father, Jai Bhagwan, realising her inclination towards sports, literally, had to beg and borrow to kick-start her boxing dream. A bill messenger in the secretariat in Chandigarh, Bhagwan's means are limited. Because of Nitu's needs, especially his presence to share her emotions, he has been forced to take long leaves. "Leave without pay was the only way," he told this newspaper.

When Nitu marched into the semifinal to ensure a medal for India at the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham, there was joy and relief. Years of tears, sweat and sacrifices have transformed into something beautiful. Ever since Nitu took up boxing, the young southpaw from Haryana, has grappled with so many challenges that pain inside the ring could hardly hurt her.

Due to limited means, Nitu's family had to delve deep to support her. She took up the sport in 2012 and her first lessons under famed coach Jagdish Singh at the Bhiwani Boxing Club (BBC). However, it was a painful start for her. Due to intense competition, she failed to prosper and was down the pecking order. She started doubting her adolescent mind. "It was difficult in the beginning," recalls her father. "She was not winning any medals at the state level for three years or so while there were others in her age group who were thriving at the national level. That was when she was really thinking of quitting."

While some of them had lost faith in young Nitu, Jai Bhagwan continued to back her. "I told her 'you have already worked so hard, you have to keep persisting'. She used to train with boys and she could hit really hard. No one had felt she could go on to do what she has been doing right now." Though backing Nitu was an easy decision, but Jai Bhagwan was struggling to meet her expenses. That forced him to take multiple loans from friends and family. At times he was under immense pressure to pay off those loans on time too. "I had to sell my swift to clear loans in 2012. It was difficult," he said.

Because of her daughter's needs, Jai Bhagwan was forced to take unpaid leave for the last four years and has been put on notice for long absence. "In the last four years, I have gotten just one salary (seven months ago). I can't go regularly since I have to look after Nitu's needs. She is always in touch with me and shares whatever is going through her mind, in regards to training and bouts."

To make matters worse, Nitu also suffered a freak accident in 2015. At first, the family didn't give much attention to the injury, hoping that the pain will subside. But later, an X-ray would reveal that she had suffered a fracture in her pelvic region. Since there was limited facility in Bhiwani, she was taken to Delhi for treatment. "She won't complain. She had learnt to endure pain," Jai Bhagwan said. Nitu, who competes in 48kg category, was so impressive that her opponent, Nicole Clyde of Northern Ireland, could only last six minutes and was forced to concede that match.

After the bout, Nitu was visibly delighted as she was whisked away by the coaches at the ringside as she now looks to improve the colour of her medal. A gold medal in School Games (Gwalior) in 2016 was just the spark that the father and daughter duo needed. The very next year, Nitu struck gold — literally and metaphorically. After acing the trials, she had become a world youth champion in Guwahati. That victory not only added belief in Nitu, it also aided the family financially. Cash prizes and recognition after that event meant Jai Bhagwan's struggles with money were over. That success was followed by another gold in the Asian Youth Championships in 2018. The Olympic Gold Quest (OGQ) also took her under their wings and have been supporting her since.

MAAN KI BAAT: LUCK AND PLUCK

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

SOMETIMES providence plays a different sport. Tulika Maan was not supposed to be there at the Commonwealth Games as her weight category was not selected by the federation. She had to deal with fate that had been flirting with her destiny. It was cathartic when the 23-year-old judoka on Wednesday stormed into the +78kg final to assure herself a CWG medal.

Tulika was three when her parents separated and then her father was shot dead over business rivalry a few years later. Her mother, Amrita Singh, who is now an assistant sub-inspector (ASI) with the Delhi Police, raised her alone. Given her round-the-clock job, she was forced to send Tulika to a hostel in Rewari. "I am in police, and because of my job I can never be sure when I will return home," mother Amrita, who is posted with Crime Branch, Fingerprint Bureau of Delhi Police, told this daily.

Time passed and Tulika started practising judo and later trained with coach Yaspal Solanki. However, her choice of sport was bound to burn a deep hole in her mother's pocket. "Most of the time, I sponsored her foreign trips. Those events were ranking tournaments and she had to compete there to earn points. My GPF (general provident fund) is already finished financing her trips," said the mother.

Women in hockey semifinals

ENS @ Chennai

THE Indian women's hockey team beat Canada 3-2 in its must-win Pool A match to qualify for the semifinals. The Indians looked in control of the match till the 22nd minute, having taken a 2-0 lead over their opponents through goals from Salima Tete (3rd minute) and Navneet Kaur (22nd). But the Canadians, levelled through goals from Brienne Stairs (23rd) and Hannah Haughn (39th). The Indian secured a penalty corner in the 51st minute, and Lalremsiami delivered.

Big win for men

Harmanpreet Singh (7th, 54th) and Akashdeep Singh (38th, 60th) scored a brace each as the Indian men's hockey team thumped Canada 8-0, jumping to the top of Pool B.

INDIA ROUND-UP

LAWN BOWLS: BORGOHAIN WINS TWO MATCHES IN SINGLES

India's Mridul Borgohain won both his men's singles matches while the women's pair of Lovely Choubey and Nayanmoni Saikia won one and drew another in the lawn bowl events on Wednesday. Borgohain first humbled Chris Locke of Falkan Islands 21-5 in his second round match and then beat Scotland's Iain McLean 21-19. The Scottish player led 12-6 after the 10th-end but Borgohain staged a spectacular comeback to level it 17-17 after the end of 22 rounds.

SQUASH STAR GHOSAL CLINCHES HISTORIC BRONZE

Saurav Ghosal on Wednesday claimed India's first ever singles medal in squash — a bronze — at the Commonwealth Games. World No15 Ghosal dominated the contest against England's James Willstrop from beginning to end, winning 11-6 11-1 11-4 in the bronze play-off. The mixed doubles pair of Joshna Chinappa and Harinder Pal Singh Sandhu progressed to the pre-quarterfinals.

CASH AWARD FOR SILVER MEDALLIST LIFTER THAKUR

Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann on Wednesday announced a cash award of ` 50 lakh for heavyweight lifter Vikas Thakur, who won a silver medal at the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham. Thakur, who hails from Ludhiana city, lifted a total of 346kg (155kg+191kg) to finish second in the men's 96kg event, claiming his third CWG medal. It was Thakur's second silver, having finished second in the 2014 edition as well.

WEIGHTLIFTER PURNIMA FINISHES SIXTH IN +87KG

India's weightlifter Purnima Pandey finished sixth in the women's +87kg weight category on Wednesday. She completed just one lift each in snatch (103kg) and clean and jerk (125kg) section to register an overall lift of 228kg. England's Emily Campbell clinched gold. Feagaiga Stowers from Samoa and Australian Charisma Amoe Tarrant won the silver and bronze.

Sindhu's win not enough in final as India mixed team bags silver

ENS @ Chennai

INDIAN badminton stars have produced some of the finest moments in sports over the years. That is something that has made the sport closer to the masses and gain popularity. And they continue to soar. But late on Tuesday, after a near-flawless campaign in the mixed team event, the Indians had to settle for a silver medal.

PV Sindhu, who is arguably one of the best sportsperson India has produced, continues to be a revelation. At the biggest of stages, Sindhu continues to weave magic with her racquet, producing some top quality play in the process.

With India trailing 0-1 after doubles pair of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty lost their tie, the onus was on Sindhu to bring the team on level terms. And Sindhu did just that against Goh Jin Wei (22-20, 21-17).

Kidambi Srikanth might have the propensity to suffer bad patches every now and then (like most athletes in every sport), but he when on song, he can really set the stage on fire, especially with his towering smashes. But on Tuesday, he seemed passive, especially at the start, and suffered a loss against NG Tze Yong (19-21, 21-6, 16-21).

In the end, it was down to youngsters Gayatri Gopichand and Treesa Jolly to rescue India against Thinaah Muralithan and Pearly Tan. But they lost 18-21, 17-21. It was joy for the Malaysians, who had regained the title after losing it in the last edition against India.

BEATING THE ODDS

From vegetable mandi to CWG podium, lifter Lovepreet's journey

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

PURSUING weightlifting was not easy for Lovepreet Singh, who on Wednesday clinched 109kg bronze at the ongoing Commonwealth Games in Birmingham. It all started when he saw a few youngsters from his village, Bal Sachander in Amritsar (Punjab) lifting weights. Lovepreet, who was around 13-year-old then, was so attracted to the sport that he decided to pursue it as a career.

But the biggest obstacle on his way was financial constraints. His father Kripal Singh is a tailor and owns a small shop in the village. His meagre income was not enough to fulfil his elder son's dream. But Lovepreet had something else in mind. He started helping wholesale vegetable vendors in Amritsar mandi to earn extra bucks to support his weightlifting dream. Given the work he has chosen, he has to reach Mandi by 4am and rush back home by 6am to get ready and leave for training. "My income was not enough and he knew that so he started working part time at Amritsar vegetable mandi. He used to earn around ₹300 per day which he used to spend on his diet and other requirements," father Kripal told this daily.

The struggles continued for years but Lovepreet's hard work meant he started winning state level weightlifting titles. One such title helped him land a job with the Indian Navy. "He appeared in the Indian Navy trials and got selected. He has been working as Havildar there for more than five years now. That helped him and us a lot," Harpreet Singh, his younger brother said. Harpreet added that his grandad Gurnail Singh and uncles used to pool in money to ensure Lovepreet continued with his training.

All the past struggles helped the 24-year-old lifter to a great extent at the CWG weightlifting platform as he started strongly by lifting 157kg in his first snatch attempt. He made it 161kg in his next attempt and went into the break by lifting 163kg in his third and last attempt. The effort placed him joint second with the Canadian lifter. Samoa's Jack Hitila Opeloge was first with the best lift of 164kg. Things heated up in the clean and jerk section as Junior Periclex Ngadja Nyabeyeu from Cameroon and Aussie Jackson George Roberts-Young entered the fray with the big lifts of 196kg and 190kg in their first respective attempts. Meanwhile, Lovepreet was steadily increasing his weights in the section. He first lifted 185kg and increased it by four kilograms in the next attempt. He breached 190kg mark in his last attempt by registering 192kg that placed him at the top of the table.

However, the Cameroon lifter (160kg+201kg=361) and Samoa's Opeloge (164kg+194kg=358kg) leapfrogged him to finish first and second, respectively. Even the Australian lifter attempted to lift 211kg, a Games record, in his bid to go past Lovepreet's overall lift of 355kg but couldn't succeed. "The Aussie managed to lift 202kg, 12kg more than his first attempt. And when he registered 211kg for his last attempt, we all were worried. We thought it's quite difficult but in sports you can never say anything for sure. We all were relieved once the Aussie couldn't lift it," said Harpreet.

SC directs election to be held expeditiously in AIFF

The Supreme Court directed for holding of elections expeditiously to the executive committee of the All India Football Federation as per the schedule proposed by the Committee of Administrators (CoA). The top court said that the Electoral College for the executive committee of AIFF would have representatives from 36 eminent players.

Young dope offenders not an ideal sign

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

Even before the anti-doping bill was passed by Parliament on Wednesday, more and more athletes are getting caught for doping. India had been table toppers in the WADA list and it's perhaps time anti-doping watchdogs get more power to nail the guilty. In the latest National Anti-Doping Agency release after the Anti Doping Disciplinary Panel's hearing, there were 19 athletes who tested positive.

What could be embarrassing for Indian athletics, as many as six athletes are on the list of 19. Asian Games medallist M R Poovamma too figures on it. She has been banned for three months from 20.06.2022 for testing positive for for a stimulant. According to NADA, various sanctions have been imposed on all those found guilty.

Not just athletics, archery is one sport that seems to be quietly sneaking into this infamous list. An archer has tested positive for using beta blocker, which helps in precision sports like shooting and archery. Archery is not alone. Even a shooter (Ramsha Kitekar) tested positive for a beta blocker. Four powerlifters and three bodybuilders also figure on the list. Other sports in which players have tested positive are kabaddi, wushu, rugby and wrestling. What could be more disconcerting is that junior athletes are testing positive. There have also been occasions when junior players, not just in athletics but across other sports, tested positive for banned substances.

MS CARISSA-MATIC

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Mahabalipuram

R SATISH BABU

AMONG the next crop of chessplayers from the US, there is a lot of excitement around Carissa Yip. Just 18, she is already the second best US women's player. With an ELO rating of 2416, she is World No 5 (No 3 at the Olympiad) among girls 19 or below. So, it's logical to see why there are high expectations. She herself has set a high bar. Grandmaster. Considering only 39 women have cleared that bar, it won't be easy.

Which is fine because Yip doesn't do easy. She likes to fight her way through adversity. It's what she did days after a leaked US Supreme Court draft suggested that Roe vs Wade could be overturned (the original case legalised abortion in the US). On May 4, she joined a protest with friends with the banner 'Hands off my rights'. In the days after the Supreme Court confirmed the leak with a formal judgment, she took to spreading information about crucial abortion resources.

"At some point, you need to spread information," she tells this daily. "I think it's very important to actively take a stance against something not just with your words but also with your actions. I think protesting is very important. Just like standing up, speaking out is very necessary, especially when you have the platform, in my opinion."

While she doesn't see herself as an activist — 'I would say I deeply care about political and social issues' is how she puts it — she is concerned about society. In the same month, she attended a public demonstration in Andover, Massachusetts, that called for the place to move away from fossil fuels.

It also comes through when she gives a detailed answer about her stance on access to abortion, an issue that's polarised the US over the last few months. "The thing about Roe vs Wade being overturned essentially leaves abortion rights up to the states. It kind of looks like blue states, left-leaning states are going to keep abortion access. I live in Massachusetts (a blue state), so I would still have access to abortion. The problem with Roe vs Wade is it would limit access to underserved communities so minorities, poor communities would be in grave danger if anything were to happen. There are also a few states in the US that are very radical. For example, I know like a couple of states in which even a medical exemption wouldn't be enough to get an abortion. I would say, for me personally, I'm very lucky to be in a privileged position but... US are going down the wrong direction."

The one direction she has no worries about is her fledgling chess career, even if she has had a rather tough Olympiad (two wins, three losses). "As you mentioned, it has been a tough few rounds for me," the 18-year-old who's originally from Chelmsford, Mass, says. "My first Olympiad, so been a bit nervous about it. In terms of my own chess, I would say very disappointed. But the tournament is long, I'm hoping something clicks soon.

"I think my progression generally in the last few years has been jagged lines. It makes sense to me. I have wanted to be a GM ever since I started playing. So, very much hoping to get that done at some point."

She got into chess thanks to her school chess club. Her father, who didn't play chess, actually taught himself how to play the game so he could teach his daughter. "I had a great support system where I grew up," she says.

Even if her stated aim is to become a GM, she does agree that sacrifices may have to be made. Especially now that she is joining Stanford this fall as a freshman. It's why she calls herself a student first. "I'm a student. I just graduated high school. I'm going to Stanford. I'm not really a full-time chess player. We will see where chess goes in the next few years.

"For everything, you are going to have to make sacrifices. I have missed a few chess tournaments for school and I have missed a few days of school for chess tournaments. I would love to be like the top player in the US if I continue. But the future is up in the air right now. What I have been doing so far is taking things as I go. I'm hoping that I figure out what I want to do with my life."

India C defeated Australia in the women's category | R SATISH BABU

Women take sole lead

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Mahabalipuram

INDIA'S main women's team have been the sleeper hit of the Olympiad so far. While the B team in the Open category understandably got all the plaudits and headlines, the women, spearheaded by the seasoned duo of Koneru Humpy and D Harika, have quietly put together an imposing series of results. On Wednesday, they chalked up their biggest win yet, sixth in succession, by downing third seeds, Georgia, to establish a sizable lead at the top.

After two draws, R Vaishali, who now has five points from six games, gave the team a big win over the higher-rated (2476 to 2442) Lela Javakhishvili. It was the catalyst that drove the team on a day when India B picked up its first loss of the tournament, a 1-5-2.5 reverse against Armenia (D Gukesh won again but both Raunak Sadhwani and Adhiban B lost). While Vaishali set the foundation, it was Humpy's game against Nana Dzagnidze, somebody who has competed against the Indian since age-group days, that would prove to be crucial. Playing with white, the onus was on the 35-year-old to bring it home. She did that, but it wasn't without hiccups.

After beginning with a Queen's Pawn Opening — d4 — both players preferred to tread cautiously. After about 13 moves, it looked like a draw was on the cards. This is when Humpy — by her own admission — took a few 'dubious' calls. First by advancing the Queen to b3 before moving the Rook to ad1. The consecutive moves handed the advantage to Dzagnidze but the Georgian failed to capitalise on the situation. Players traded pieces post that but Humpy had the better position on the board. They exchanged Queens as Dzagnidze tried for one final maneuver but Humpy's pawn was already at c6. There was only going to be one outcome in the end and it was all over after the Indian's 42nd move.

Armenia, US leapfrog India

Thanks to Armenia's win over a heavily-fancied India B, they leapfrogged the hosts to occupy top spot in the Open section. US are upto second place. India are in third spot.

Mohali to host opening Australia T20I

MUMBAI: Mohali and Delhi are among nine Indian cities that will host back-to-back white-ball matches against Australia and South Africa, respectively, starting September 20, BCCI secretary Jay Shah said. India will play six T20I games against Australia and South Africa, which will serve as a dress rehearsal for the T20 World Cup.

Suryakumar helps India take 2-1 lead in T20s

LONDON: Suryakumar Yadav epitomised his team's new all-out attacking approach with a blazing 76 at the top of the order as India romped to a seven-wicket victory over the West Indies in the third T20I in St Kitts on Tuesday.

Brief scores: WI 164/5 in 20 ovs (Mayers 73, Bhuvneshwar 2-35) lost to India 165/3 in 19 ovs (Suryakumar 76, Pant 33 n.o).

U-20 Worlds: Relay team clinches silver

AGENCIES @ Cali (Colombia)

INDIAN mixed relay team bettered their last year's performance at the U20 world championships on Tuesday. The 4x400 quarter of Barath Sridhar Priya Mohan, Kapil and Rupal Chaudhary clocked 3 minutes and 17.67 seconds to finish behind USA (3:17.69) and won a silver. In Nairobi last year, India had won bronze.

The team bettered its own earlier Asian record of 3:19.62 set a day earlier during the heats.

The new timing of 3:17.67 is the second best (in juniors) in the all time list in the newly-introduced event, behind USA's. Rupal is the only new member of the quartet that had won bronze last year while Sridhar, Priya and Kapil were there in that team.

BRINGING HOME THE HOLIDAYS

Mediterranean, Sri Lankan and Balinese styles are making their way into the abodes of B'lureans who are including elements of their favourite country

IF cultures from around the world have pervaded our homes, why not bring some of their elements into the living space to inject comfort, balance and serenity?

Rayshma Mohan's apartment on Sarjapur Road can easily transport you to the rustic lanes of Santorini with blinding white walls contrasted with blue. Even though Mohan did not saunter on the streets of the Greek Island, it was her husband who had gone there for work. Sitting miles away, the pictures of this Mediterranean place were more than enough to make Mohan fall in love with the space, and get an idea of how to replicate it in their apartment.

She says it was the white, blue and pink bougainville combination that enticed her to choose the theme. "The pink bougainville made it look dreamy, and so, we went for the theme. We began with a blue-and-white colour scheme. That's all I had in mind. Then slowly, we thought of turning it around into a Mediterranean theme. There we had white seating and blue floor tiles in place," says the dental surgeon.

In the beautiful abode of Radeesh Shetty, founder-director of Purple Turtle, one can get a feeling of tropical Sri Lanka. The kernel of Lankan architecture is simplicity which appealed to Shetty. "The idea was a more tropical-modern theme. The house is white, and my flooring is white terrazzo, which was the original flooring of the home, which I have tried to maintain. My wardrobes and doors have been polished black," says Shetty.

It was an advantage to be a part of an interiors' brand, Shetty says as it opened the doors to a plethora of intriguing items which he had collected over a period of time. "I have used a lot of teak in the furniture. I have chosen mood lighting which is fairly subtle and includes a lot of table lamps. These are some of the things that define the decor," he explains. Adding to the aspects of designing his apartment in Indiranagar is the use of plants which is most important. "My house is filled with plants — both outdoors as well as indoors. We have used a lot of natural materials like teak with cane and rosewood," says Shetty.

Mohan and Shetty are probably one of the many who have tried to incorporate the themes of their favourite countries in their homes. Rajesh K, founder of Tesor designs, who has worked on designing other themes like Balinese, Chettinad and Rajasthani, says extensive globe-trotting has exposed people to different ideas. "They would have travelled to multiple countries, and each of them is influenced in a particular way which they bring back to an extent. When they connect to a specific place, and want the decor to revolve around that, it should reflect their personality," Rajesh points out.

However, every good thing comes with a price, says Shetty. "Going for a theme-based decor incurs a huge cost. There is no limit to how much one can shell out but a minimum budget would be between ₹30 lakh and ₹50 lakh. But there are niche customers who do not mind going for it," he admits.

Inaugural Ceremony of PES UG Courses Held

PES University held the Inaugural ceremony of the first year BBA, Bcom and Bsc (psychology) courses for the academic year 2022-2023 recently.

In his inaugural speech Prof. M R Doreswamy, acknowledged the accomplishments and contributions of private universities in providing quality education in Karnataka. He also emphasised the importance of following the calendar of events to provide a structured education.

"If an institution attains A+ in INAAC grading, continuously for two consecutive years, then the institution should be recognised as autonomous. This autonomy will ensure quality education as can be seen in the performance of private universities in terms of providing quality education and job placements," he opined. He also emphasised on the importance of Yoga in ensuring health and concentration.

Dr. Surya Prasad, Vice Chancellor, PES University welcomed the gathering and Dr. Shailahree Haridas, Dean of Commerce and Management programmmes proposed vote of thanks.

C.S.Ashwin and Abdul, the alumni of the University, who are currently placed in Dell and Intellipart respectively, shared their experiences of their stay at the institution.

FIT BIT

APAAVITRA MANDUKASANA
(FROG POSE I)

This is a prone pose that is a deep hip opener, included in the intermediate level of yoga poses. This pose is challenging on the knees while trying to rest the upper abdomen, chest, chin and arms on the floor. It can be considered as a challenging variation of Prasarita Balasana (Wide Child Pose).

STEPS

- Begin in Bharmanasana (Table Top Pose) with your hands and knees on the floor. Keep the hands in line with the shoulders and the knees exactly below the hips. Stay here for a few seconds.
- Inhale and, when you exhale, gently move your right and left knees out to the side, hold and keep breathing whenever you experience the stretch.
- Continue to open your hips by turning your feet outwards and stretch your ankles until the inside of your feet, ankles and knees touch the floor.
- Lower your forearms, coming to Frog Pose I Forearms, keeping your palms flat.
- Continue and breathe deeply for five to 10 breaths, or as long as you can.
- Gently lengthen the arms in front and stretch to bring the upper abdomen, chest, and chin to the floor. Keep your hips stable.
- Now, gently move the knees further outwards, without lifting them off the floor. Remain here for about 4-6 breaths, initially.
- Slowly bring your elbow back, place hands on the floor, and bring the knees together. Rest.
- Repeat this practice with more than 6 breaths for your comfort.

BENEFITS

- Muscles of the back and front body are stretched and various joints of the body are engaged to keep the torso stable and strong.
- Helps gain confidence through awareness and focus. The alignment of the body impacts the overall, improving the posture.
- There is scope for fresh prana. Internal organs too feel rejuvenated. Energising and calming for the body and mind.
- Stimulates the Manipura (solar plexus) chakra to bring a sense of personal efficacy, motivation and self-power.
- Clears blocked energies in the hips, pelvis, psoas, and lower back, and ensures a balance in the physical and mental body.
- It tones side abdominal muscles, thighs, chest, and arms.
- Provides scope for improved nervous system.
- Helps to alleviate chronic muscle tightness.

LIMITATIONS

People who have knee, groin, lower back or hip injuries or pain, or are recovering from a recent or old surgeries related to the abdomen, rib cage, knees, ankles, shoulders, or spine, have conditions of joints, muscles, or spine, arthritis, pressure, pregnant women, and senior citizens, should avoid this.

BABY STEPS

Feeding preterm babies comes with several challenges for mothers, but here's how you can overcome them

DR RAVNEET JOSHI

PRETERM birth is when a baby is born before the 37th week of pregnancy, unlike the normal pregnancy cycle that lasts for 40 weeks. Reports say approximately 5 - 18 per cent of babies born across the world (in 184 countries) are premature. India has a significant number of preterm births every year. With preterm babies or preemies, there is a higher risk of health complications, serious disability, or even death as their organs are not fully developed.

Paediatric doctors worldwide have recommended breastfeeding as the optimal nutritional choice for all preterm babies. Not only does breast milk provide the best nutrition, but also contains digestive enzymes, immune protective, growth factors, and hormones to protect premature babies from many infections. Since preterm infants have less endurance as compared to matured babies, mother's milk is the best nutrition for preterm babies. With breastmilk feeding, these babies will have a low chance of suffering from necrotising enterocolitis, diarrhoea, urinary tract infection, pneumonia, and late-onset sepsis. Also, the mortality rates for breastfed preterm babies are lower than for babies who are formula fed. Preterms who receive breast milk have significant advantages in mental development and visual acuity. However, feeding preterm babies comes with several challenges for the mother to overcome.

Challenges

Though medical sciences prove formula milk has poorer outcomes in terms of growth and development and infections in preterm babies, it still becomes a challenge to initiate and sustain breastfeeding in the mother of a preterm baby. Separation of the mother from her baby becomes a major stress factor if the baby is admitted to the NICU. Supporting her and providing her right education would have a significant role in her success in breastfeeding. While breastfeeding, the most important factor lies in the ability of the mothers to produce sufficient milk to meet the needs of the preemies. In this regard, kangaroo mother care (skin-to-skin contact) is an integral part of the care of a preterm baby.

With preemies, the mothers should practice both breastfeeding and breast milk expression. Initially, the babies may not be able to breastfeed due to weak suction pressure. If the baby is in the NICU or is not able to suck properly, the mother is advised to initiate lactation by expressing breastmilk quickly after the delivery (within six hours) and continue at least eight to 10 times a day. This goes on for sometime until direct breastfeeding is well established. Both hand expression and mechanical breast pumps provided by the hospitals can be used to express breastmilk. It also helps reduce any maternal stress the mothers go through after childbirth.

Good maternal support from the family and the NICU is essential in this period that can boost the confidence of new mothers in expressing breastmilk in a relaxed and comfortable environment. The hospitals should assist in the correct method of expression and storage technique of the expressed breastmilk and breastfeeding in the neonatal intensive care unit (NICU).

Not only does breastfeeding benefit nutritional and immunological growth in premature babies, it also helps enhance a better bonding of the mothers with their babies. Through extensive care and breastfeeding, these babies can grow and reduce any risk of illnesses that may occur due to early birth.

Consumption of ultra-processed foods may up dementia risk

PEOPLE who eat the highest amounts of ultra-processed foods like soft drinks, chips and cookies have a higher risk of developing dementia, says a new study. Published in the journal Neurology, the study found that replacing ultra-processed foods in a person's diet with unprocessed or minimally processed foods was associated with a lower risk. However, it mentioned that the study does not prove that ultra-processed foods cause dementia and only shows an association. "Our research not only found that ultra-processed foods are associated with an increased risk of dementia, but it also found replacing them with healthy options may decrease dementia risk," said researcher Huiping Li of Tianjin Medical University in China. Ultra-processed foods are high in added sugar, fat and salt, and low in protein and fibre. They include soft drinks, salty and sugary snacks, ice cream, sausage, deep-fried chicken, yogurt, canned baked beans and tomatoes, among others. — IANS

ASHIKA RANGANATH TO PLAY THE ROLE OF DEVAKANYE IN SUNI'S GATHAVAIBHAVA

She is paired opposite Dushyanth, who is playing a VFX artist in this fantasy drama

Dushyanth

Ashika Ranganath

A SHARADHAA

WE all know that Dushyanth is set to make his debut in director Suni's fantasy drama Gathavaibhava. CE had speculated that Ashika Ranganath will be playing the female lead in the film. Now it has been officially confirmed by the team, who have come up with an exclusive video revealing the details of the casting process, which will be out today on social media platforms. Suni, speaking to CE revealed that his fantasy drama Gathavaibhava starring Dushyanth as a VFX artist will have Ashika playing a character named Devakanye. The first look shared by the team shows Ashika adorned in a vibrant and traditional attire.

The shooting of Gathavaibhava is halfway through , and Ashika is said to have completed shooting 30 percent of her portions. The team plans to reveal the details of other characters closer to the wrap.

Judah Sandy, who had previously teamed up with Suni for Operation Alamelamma and Chamak will be composing music for Gathavaibhava. William David who recently worked in Vikrant Rona will be handling the cinematography. Ullas Hydoor is taking care of the art department. Ashika's other projects include Avatara Purusha 2 . She also has Raymo starring Ishaan and directed by Pavan Wadeyar, which is likely to be out in September. The actor is also part of a medical thriller O2, made under the PRK Production banner.

Sudeep

Overwhelmed with the response to Vikrant Rona, Sudeep talks about how audiences across different languages have embraced this film

I CAN ALWAYS DO COMMERCIAL FILMS: SUDEEP

CE FEATURES

IT'S been a week since Sudeep's Vikrant Rona was released in multiple languages, and the Pan India actor is overwhelmed with the response in Karnataka, and is equally elated to see that the film is also doing well in Telugu and Hindi too.

The 3D film has not only joined the 100 crore club but has also attracted a new set of audiences for the actor. Speaking to a certain section of the media, he also expressed his happiness about people like SS Rajamouli praising the film.

"In my 26-year-old career, there are times when I enjoy experimenting with films, and Vikrant Rona is one of them. As an actor, we are always exposed to innovations and experimentation, and I'm proud to have been part of such films," says Sudeep, who also had his candid reply to negative responses floating on social media. "The King is always attacked first. So it is obvious to see some people pouring in negative thoughts. But I look at the larger picture about people standing by the film today. It is seldom to see these kinds of tweets and support for a film. After Eega, this is another film people are watching multiple times. When I am getting so much love, the negatives do not worry me much. When nature decides to do something good, no matter what anyone does against it, it will not work. The audience has embraced the film, and our entire team including the producer, my friend/brother Jack Manju (Manjunath Gowda), and director Anup Bhandari are happy with the way Vikrant Rona has been received across the world," he says.

Sudeep states that Vikrant Rona is a selfless and honest film. "It was a content-based subject, and every actor along with me have got their own screen space. We, as a team, have given justice to the script. This is a film that does not project me as a mass hero and does not carry unnecessary fights, and mass dialogues. All these could have been done, but I didn't want to ruin the script. I'm not retired. I can always do commercial films," and he signs off.

2ND LIFE

HIGHLIGHTS THE IMPORTANCE OF STORING STEM CELLS

A still from 2nd Life

CE FEATURES

RAJU Devasandara, who has previously directed Akshate, Gosi Gang, and Kathle Kadu, has come up with a social thriller titled 2nd life.

The multilingual film, shot in Kannada, Telugu, and Tamil, is aimed at creating awareness about the importance of storing Stem cells. Adarsh Gunduraj, a chartered accountant by profession plays the lead in 2nd Life. "There is less awareness about stem cells, and a film on this socially relevant topic would be interesting, '' says Adarsh, who spoke on the sidelines of the teaser release on Tuesday.

2nd Life, made under Jayanna films, features Sindhu Rao as the female lead and she will be seen as a visually challenged person. With Pradeep and Naveen Shakti playing the antagonists, the film's action has been choreographed by stunt director Vikram Mor.

The film helmed by debutant director, Somu Hoysala, is slated to release on Aug 26

VIKIPEDIA

MARKS YASHVANTH'S TINSEL TOWN DEBUT

CE FEATURES

YASHVANTH, who made a mark on the small screen with teleserials like Satyam Shivam Sundaram, Ondoornalli Raja Rani, Yaare Nee Mohini, Mahadevi, is set to make his tinsel town debut with Vikipedia. Apart from directing, Yashvanth will also star in the film, which also marks the directorial debut of Somu Hoysala. "Wikipedia is more like an encyclopedia. Likewise, Vikipedia will trace the journey of my character, Vikas (a) Vicky," says Yashvanth.

With the post-production work in full swing, the film is slated to release on August 26, and the trailer will be out on August 6.

Vikipedia has Ashika Somashekar (Munduvarida Adhyaya) playing the female lead. The cast also comprises Rakshita U, Manjunath Hegde, Radha Ramachandra, and Jyoti playing important roles.

Vikipedia has dialogues written by Manjunath Bhat, and Chidanand HK handling the cinematography. Rakesh UP and Nilima Rao, who has previously worked for Mahira, have composed music for this film

Alia Bhatt: I enjoy different, surprising content, why not produce it?

The actor joins Shefali Shah, Vijay Varma and director Jasmeet K. Reen to discuss Darlings, her foray into production, motherhood and finally finding some time with husband Ranbir Kapoor

SHILAJIT MITRA

TEN years ago, Alia Bhatt was on the cusp of entering the movies. By all means, her debut film, Student of the Year, was a big launch. Yet who could have predicted the progress to follow? Alia shone in Highway (2014), in Udta Punjab (2016), in Dear Zindagi (2016), in Raazi (2018), in Gully Boy (2019). Each performance appeared to build on the last. There was growth of choice and craft. It all culminated, spectacularly, in the massive success of Gangubai Kathiawadi, one of the few Hindi films this year to pack them in at theatres.

And now, just to top it all, Alia's turned producer with Darlings, an edgy crime-comedy set in the heart of Mumbai.

"I feel grateful and fingers crossed all the way," Alia says, beaming. Hailing from a line of established producers, Alia could have played it safe. But Darlings—about a mother-daughter pair who take their own kin hostage, and starring Alia, Shefali Shah, Vijay Varma and Roshan Mathew as leads—is far from a meek production choice. Alia blinks when we ask why she chose to go down this road.

"Why not?" she tuts. "As an audience, I enjoy fresh, different, surprising content. And to get a chance to act in it... I think it's a win-win and an honour for me to produce a film like Darlings."

In the film, Alia is Badrunissa Shaikh, a young woman who reports her ticket-examiner husband as missing. In truth, she's kidnapped him, and is keeping him under lock and key with the help of her mother. There's a reckoning with domestic abuse, though the treatment and performances look zany and unhinged. "Given the delicate subject matter," Alia notes, "it was important to have every actor to be A+. We were lucky to have such a solid cast, and I'm not talking about myself."

Director Jasmeet K Reen describes it as a 'dream cast'. Shefali, who's coming off a streak of intense, hard-hitting roles (in Delhi Crime, Human and Jalsa), leapt at the opportunity to do Darlings, especially the chance to explore comic shades in her character. "It was so refreshing," shares Shefali, who plays Alia's straight-shooting mother Shamsu. "Because of the work I've done previously, there's an image that I'm too serious. People don't think I can be funny or wicked or both. But I feel Shamsu is the closest to what I am as a person. She's a cracker, a complete wacko, with no filters at all."

Darlings betrays a strong influence of Zoya Akhtar's Gully Boy (2019). The characters, as in that film, are working-class Muslims in Mumbai. We hear some of that delectable street slang, and the cast—including Alia, Vijay Varma and Vijay Maurya—is halfway a reunion of Gully Boy alums. "One of the concerns for me and Jasmeet was not to repeat Moeen from Gully Boy"—Vijay Varma, who plays Hamza, Badrunissa's husband, says. "I figured out Moeen was from Dharavi and this guy is from Byculla. People who know Mumbai will know how different folks from these two localities are."

Alia drew some of the lingo—'main jati, main karti'—from Safeena in Gully Boy. Beyond that, though, the characters are vastly different, she assures. Nevertheless, it's amazing how Alia, who grew up rich in the suburbs of Mumbai, slips into the skin of these hustling, streetwise characters. "It's all in the writing," Alia explains, shifting away some of the credit. "It's the written word, the conversations. I'm pretty imaginative that way. You give me enough information about a character and I will create a story in my head."

With her first Hollywood film, Heart of Stone, on the way, global audiences will soon get a peek at that imaginative wisdom. Fronted by Gal Gadot, the film was wrapped up last month, a few days after Alia and husband Ranbir Kapoor announced their first pregnancy (they'll also appear together in Ayan Mukerji's Brahmastra).

"I've barely seen Ranbir since we got married," Alia laughs, citing the whirlwind of shoots, releases and promotions. "I was still calling him my boyfriend and had to change his name on my phone to husband." But they've gotten some time now, Alia adds. "There is such beautiful, positive energy between us. A lot of touching wood is happening. And we feel grateful for what's coming ahead."
